WILSON GIVEN AN OVATION IN OHIO

Governor Winds Up First Week of Campaigning and Leaves for Home

SPENDS A STRENUOUS DAY

The Nominee's Principal Speech Was Devoted to High Prices and Their Cause—Says Opponents Abandoned Issues.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 20.—Twelve hours did Gov. Wilson spend in Columbus today, but in this was crowded the formal opening of the Democratic campaign in Ohio, a luncheon with Gov. Harmon, Representative Cox, the Democratic candidate for Governor and State leaders and a series of speeches and receptions.

It was a strenuous wind-up to the Presidential nominee's first week of consecutive campaigning. As he started back to Sea Girt, N. J., tonight he said he was more than satisfied and pleased both with the thrill of campaigning and the enthusiastic greetings he had received. The Governor, during the day, spoke on education as well as politics. In the one speech he drew attention to the specialties and distractions of university life. In the other there stood out prominently his criticism of a board of experts to handle the tariff or trust problems. Experts, he said, had too narrow a vision and always delayed legislation. The Governor made his first reference to the present currency system, characterizing its as stiff, antiquated and inelastic.

Enthusiasm and demonstration spread through the day's events. For the first time in his life, the Governor said, he saw what a political organization looked like. He saw the precinct organizers, the county leaders and the State executives and with them hundreds of co-workers. They crowded Memorial Hall and gave the nominee a big ovation.

With several leaders of the Democratic organization the Governor went to the Chamber of Commerce and addressed a meeting of educators from all parts of Ohio.

"I find this sudden change of costume somewhat embarrassing," said the Governor. "Just a few minutes ago, so few that the atmosphere of the meetings is still in my mind, I had to wear the costume of the politician. Now I have undergone a rapid change for which they did not give me time behind the scenes and resume my old garb as school master.

"I want to say very frankly that after dealing with some college politicians, the men I am dealing with now seem to be like amateurs. They haven't the gift of making black look exactly white. In other words, they haven't this same subtle 'gift of gab' that covers everything over with the fine veneer of excellent phraseology."

The candidate then addressed a meeting of several hundred business men.

"One of the most amazing fictions of our politics," said the Governor to them, "is that the Democratic party is not interested in the business life of the United States. When you reflect that the Democrats of the United State comprise about half of the population, it is very interesting that half of the population should be suspected of the desire to commit commercial hari-kari."

In attacking the idea of a board of experts to handle the tariff question he said conditions were constantly changing with the tariff, as often sometimes as every 24 hours.

"You cannot touch one tariff schedule," he added, "without having incalculable results in other schedules. I suppose that when you deal with the wool schedules, for example, you supposed that was all the woolen men were interested in. But the woolen men, if I may credit what I have read in their reports, are almost as much interested in the chemical schedule as in the woolen schedule. Bodies of experts to guide legislation have always been the machinery of one thing, and that is delay."

In speaking of the currency question, the nominee said:

"One of the things that makes the currency question most pressing and significant at this moment is that we are certain now in my judgment to remove some of the artificial obstacles to our prosperity in business and the minute you do that there is to be such an increase in the economic activity of America that this stubborn, stiff, antiquated currency system of ours can't stand the strain. You've got to make it elastic; you've got to change it or else you can't stand your own prosperity. America is now straining at the leash and I could name some of the gentlemen who are holding the leather thing that is attached to the leash. I don't know whether they know that they are holding it or not. The leash is there and America is straining to be free; and God willing, she shall be free."

Thousands of people came to a hotel where the Governor was stopping and shook hands with him. Tonight the programme was even more strenuous. The Presidential candidate addressed a throng that filled Memorial Hall, the most spacious of the city's auditoriums. Governor Harmon pre-

T. R. TELLS WHY HE QUIT REPUBLICANS

In Speech at Omaha, Neb. Defends Action in Forming New Party

ATTACKS THE G. O. P. LEADERS

Says the Only Way You Can Reform Politicians Like Barnes and Penrose Is With a Club—Leaves for Kansas

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 20.—A defense of his action in quitting the Republican party and taking the lead in the formation of a new party, was made today by Col. Roosevelt. He spent the day in Nebraska and traveled leisurely across the State with a speech for every stop. He spent three hours this afternoon at Lincoln and the evening in Omaha.

At Lincoln he spoke at the auditorium. A number of students from the University of Nebraska greeted the colonel with college yells. He began by saying that Victor Rosewater, of Omaha, former Republican National committeeman, "stole the Nebraska delegates to the Republican conventon just as effectively as if the delegates had been thrown out."

He attacked leaders of the Republican party, adding:

"Imagine Abraham Lincoln in the company of Barnes and Penrose and the other minor people."

"It has been said," he continued, "Oh, well, of course that is bad, but you should stay in the party and reform it." The only way you can reform that kind of a man is with a club."

"Look at what the Republican National Committee is doing at this moment," said Col. Roosevelt, who charged that the committee is seating the men who were defeated at the primaries last Spring. "Among them he mentioned Franklin Murphy, of New Jersey; Senator Crane, of Massachusetts, and Mr. Mulvane, of Kansas. The committee has not put Penrose and Rosewater back yet," said the colonel, "but they will get back."

Col. Roosevelt then turned to the Democratic party, speaking of Wm. J. Bryan and criticising the position of Gov. Wilson.

"One of the prominent features of this campaign," he said, "has been that Mr. Bryan has said we have stolen our issues from the Democratic platform. Stole the Democratic platform! I would not have it as a gift."

FOR WORLD'S SERIES.

Monday, October 7th, is the Date Tentatively Agreed Upon.

New York, Sept. 20.—The world's series baseball games are to begin on Monday, October 7th. This date is said to have been tentatively agreed upon by the National Commission, which meets here next Wednesday to draft the plans for the games. The date of the opening of the series was based upon the assumption that the New York Nationals and the Boston Americans would win the pennants in their respective leagues.

The Boston club has already won the pennant and the Giants expect to win within the next 10 days. The playing season of the Red Sox and the New York Giants closes October 5th and one day's rest before the big games is deemed sufficient. An early start of the series is desired, as the commission desires to take advantage of good weather.

It is learned that the commission has practically decided to play two consecutive days in one city. The club owners will toss a coin to determine which city shall have the opening games.

DOG SHARES MASTER'S CELL.

Influences Magistrate to Deal Leniently With Janitor.

New York, Sept. 19.—After Thomas Brennan, 50 years old, janitor of the apartment house at 251 West 155th street, had been lodged in a cell of the West 125 street police station, following his arrest by Detective Phlen Wednesday night on a warrant obtained by his wife, Catherine, charging cruelty and intoxication, his little dog Pete, who had tagged after him, put up such a whine of protest at the enforced separation, varied with vigorous barkings, that the police allowed the animal to share his master's cell for the night.

Sitting beside him, with his head cocked on one side, Pete was an interested spectator at Brennan's arraignment this morning in the Harlem court, and Magistrate Kernochan, sniffing the moral, discharged the prisoner with a reprimand, telling him to be as devoted to his wife as doggie was to him.

Houston, Sept. 20.—Never before in the history of Texas, it is said today, has there been such a shortage in labor as is evidenced in certain lines just now. From all over the cotton-picking belt comes the demand for pickers. Railroads are daily finding more of their equipment tied up owing to the inability to have cars unloaded. At several points in Texas the statement is made that sidings near compresses are choked with loaded cars, with no workers to dump the cotton.

BURGLARIZED MORGAN HOME

John Bernauer Confesses to Entering J. P. Morgan Jr.'s Mansion While He and His Servants Slept—Valuables Found

New York, Sept. 20.—Burglary of the mansion of J. P. Morgan, Jr., while Mr. Morgan and his 40 servants slept, has been confessed, the police say, by John Bernauer, whom they arrested late today. In his possession were found seven watches, medals, diamond pins and other articles of jewelry stolen from the home. The burglary occurred last January, but news of it was not made public until some time afterward, when Mr. Morgan notified the police that he would pay a reward of $5,000 for the recovery of the stolen articles, many of which were priceless to him for their associations.

Detectives shadowing a man suspected of being Reynolds Frosbey, who made a sensational escape from the Tombs prison, watched the suspect today as he visited the office of a pawnbroker in the Bronx where he tried to dispose of articles of jewelry. He was arrested and search convinced the officers that they had not Frosbey, but the Morgan burglar.

The prisoner gave his name as John Bernauer, and said he was a native of Muichu, Bavaria, 38 years old.

In telling of the Morgan burglary Bernauer said that about 4 o'clock on the morning of January 25th, while prowling in the vicinity of the Morgan house, he found one of the back doors unlocked. He went into the vestibule and took off his shoes. In stocking feet he visited almost every room in the big house, finding servants asleep.

He found little attractive to him until he reached Mr. Morgan's own room. He crept up to a bureau close to where the financier was sleeping and ransacked the drawers.

He got away without detection, but could make little use of his loot as he found that all the pawnshops were watched. In eight months he thought the case would be forgotten.

STATE OFFERS REWARD.

Governor Kitchin Offers $100 for Aaron Faison.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 20.—Governor Kitchin has offered a reward of $100 for Aaron Faison, who murderously assaulted Pet Norton at a saw mill near Zebulon a few days ago. Norton, who is a young white man, is slowly recovering from the injuries he received from being struck down with a cant hook. Faison is a negro who had entertained a grudge against the young man for several days.

A special term of Superior Court to continue two weeks in Hoke county, was ordered today by Governor Kitchin to be convened by Judge Lyon for trial of both civil and criminal causes.

HEALTH MEETING ADJOURNS

American Association Meets Next at Colorado Springs, Colo.—Officers Elected—Dr. Hutchinson Makes Address.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The 40th annual convention of the American Public Health Association, which has been in session here the past three days, tonight adjourned to meet next year at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The convention unanimously elected the following officers: President, Dr. Rudolph Herring, New York; vice presidents, Drs. W. R. Batt, Harrisburg, Pa.; Bates Roberts, Hamilton, Ont., and J. E. Mongaras, Mexico, and Selskar M. Gunn; secretary and treasurer, Dr. Livingston Ferrand.

How to improve the race in morals and intelligence and thereby create a higher standard of citizenship, was discussed tonight by Dr. Woods Hutchinson, of New York, whose address

MONEY SHIPMENT DISAPPEARS

Package Containing $55,000 Mysteriously Vanishes in Transit From Pensacola to L. & N. Officers at Flomaton, Ala.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 20.—A package containing $55,000 mysteriously disappeared in transit from the First National Bank in this city to officials of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad at Flomaton, Ala. The money was part of a shipment of $75,000 intended as a payroll and was in bills of small denominations.

Details of the robbery, which is said to have occurred Wednesday, did not become public until today. Reports were current that the Westbound Louisville & Nashville train leaving here Wednesday morning had been held up and robbed, but this was emphatically denied late today by railroad officials here.

Private detectives and special agents of the railroad and Southern Express Company are here investigating the affair.

The money was put up in two sealed packages at the bank, one containing $55,000 and the other $20,000. These packages were delivered to the Southern Express Company and in turn delivered by them to the Louisville & Nashville pay car at Flomaton, to be used in paying off the men as the car came south to Pensacola.

On being opened in the pay car, it is said, the larger package was said to contain a roll of pages from a magazine in place of the money. The express messengers, it is said, claim the seals on the packages were unbroken while the packages were in their care.

No report had been made tonight by the detectives investigating the matter and railroad and express officers refuse to discuss the disappearance of the money.

POST-SEASON GAMES

Major Leaguers Will Engage In Three Series

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 19.—President Ban Johnson, of the American League, returned to Chicago last night from Cincinnati with the announcement that there would be only three post-season series between league teams. The one of greatest interest will be the series between the Boston Americans and the New York Nationals for the world's championship. The other series will be between the two St. Louis teams and the two Chicago teams.

In making the announcement President Johnson made the provision that these games should take place in the event that the Cubs fail to win the National pennant. Johnson said it was evident that Pittsburg did not want to meet either the Philadelphia or Washington Americans and that there was no prospect of a meeting between the Cincinnati and Cleveland teams for the Ohio championship.

REBELS FIRE UPON AMERICAN FORCES

Nicaraguan Revolutionists and U. S. Marines Clash at Baranca

BRITAIN GETS INTERESTED

Two English Subjects Reported Murdered—American Naval Forces Were Engaged When They Attempted to Open R. R.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Severe fighting between American naval forces and Nicaraguan revolutionists is believed to have occurred in the past few days near Baranca, although reports from the scene are so meagre that officials here have no definite idea of what has happened. Rear Admiral Southerland is in the field, probably with upward of 2,000 men, and if plans have not miscarried, by this time he has cleared the route of the National Railway, of opposing rebels and relieved the famine-threatened city of Granada.

European attention to affairs in Nicaragua at this time in believed to be one of the possibilities of the situation. The Washington government in sending relief to the beleaguered city.

The British counsul general at Managua and the British vice consul at Matagalpa have reported two British subjects murdered by the rebels at Achuapa. It is expected, however, the British government before taking action on its own accord will await the results of the campaign of America.

A delayed cablegram from Admiral Southerland, dated Managua, 11 o'clock P. M., September 17th, and reporting that American bluejackets and marines were fired upon as they attempted to open the railway, reached the Navy Department today. Dellayed reports yesterday said the Granada relief party had been fired on last Sunday; that the officer in command had halted and sent to Managua for reinforcements and that Admiral Southerland had gone to the rescue with two companies of marines and a detachment of soldiers. Whether or not there was more firing from the rebels before the additional American forces arrived is not known, but it is possible the brush referred to in the dispatch received today was the one that took place Sunday.

On this arrival at Barancas Admiral Southerland sent word to Gen. Zeledon, one of the rebel leaders, that he proposed to open the railroad to Granada and keep it open and that he would give the rebels just 24 hours to clear the tracks.

It is not known exactly how many sailors or marines composed the admiral's force at that time, but it is believed that it did not exceed three or four hundred men. At any rate in view of the large number of rebels in his front, and unwilling to run the risk of even temporary defeat, the admiral called for re-enforcements from Managua where it is believed there were still about 1,500 sailors and marines available, so as to make sure of overpowering any opposition that the rebels might offer. That was the situation when the last cablegram was dispatched from Managua three days ago.

The official reports to the State Department rarely include such severe language as those which are now issued, dealing with the conditions in Granada, which it is said, are worse than those that existed in the Congo and the Putumayo. The rebels with unparalleled ferocity have turned upon helpless non-combatants, even women and children, and their warfare is characterized by a return to absolute barbarism. American Minister Weitzel has received a letter from Pedro Rafael Cuadra, the present minister of finance of President Diaz and from Carlos Cuadra, the Nicaraguan member of the Mixed Claims Commission, in which in the name of humanity and civilization they beg Minister Weitzel to do all that he can to protect their families, who are being ferociously persecuted at Granada. They have learned that Gen. Mena and his agents are persecuting their relatives because they themselves are members of the Diaz government. Their brothers, private citizens, they declare, have been inhumanly tortured, deprived of food and obliged to pay large sums of money for a few crumbs, when exhausted from lack of nourishment.

For an interrupted period of five days they were confined in a tiny, filthy closet, for three days of which time they were allowed no food and water, so that when let out they were near death. Moreover, Col. Daniel Mena, in command of Fort San Francisco, overlooking the town, has threatened to shoot the Cuadra brothers if the government troops attack Granada. It is said that Mrs. Cuadra, wife of the minister of finance, is being hunted in Granada in order that she may be tortured.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 20.—The Pennsylvania Railroad has issued an order restricting trains on all parts of the road from exceeding 70 miles an hour. Special orders have been given to speed on curves at various points. It is stated that the new rule will not affect the present schedule of any train.

U. S. HAS EYES ON STANDARD OIL CO.

Department of Justice Watches Workings of Disintegrated Trust

SEVERAL COMPLAINTS HEARD

The Government is Investigating Charges That Dissolution Decree is Being Violated—Attack Not Contemplated.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The Department of Justice is closely watching the workings and methods of the disintegrated parts of the Standard Oil Company, and rigidly investigating all charges that the decree of dissolution entered under the mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States is being violated.

While no general attack on the Standard Oil and its former subsidiaries is contemplated at the present time, the government has received specific complaints relating to conditions in certain communities. The investigation of these allegations is necessarily localized and confined to the situation in the specified districts. The result of one of these inquiries, for instance, was the indictment of John D. Archbold and other Standard Oil magnates at Dallas, Texas, on August 29th. In that case the charge was that the Standard Oil was endeavoring to control the oil business in Texas. Since then another inquiry has been started in a different part of the country, but still of a similar local character.

In addition to these investigations, the government is keeping in close touch with all developments in the pending Standard Oil-Waters-Pierce litigation. While the Federal government is not a party to the suit, a copy of all the testimony is received by the Department of Justice for careful study to determine whether there is any indication that the decree of dissolution is not being faithfully fulfilled.

Attorney General Wickersham is giving these important questions his personal consideration. He is directing the investigations and reviewing the testimony in the Waters-Pierce suit.

This is the present situation, and the ultimate outcome is problematical. Officials here were emphatic in their declarations that there had been nothing so far in the investigations of the Department of Justice to warrant criminal proceedings other than the indictments returned at Dallas. They were careful to add, however, that no one could tell what might be developed by the matters now pending in the courts or in course of investigation. The interest of the Attorney General is particularly intense, they point out, because the Federal government is the only power that can institute contempt proceedings for the alleged violation of a court's decree.

President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham have expressed the belief that the decrees in both the oil and tobacco cases generally were working well. They have contended that while ruinous competition had not been re-introduced into the business, the decrees had affected certain prices in such a way as to show the presence of real competition.

The disintegrations were not expected by them to result in radical changes in the business. They believed it might take a period of years to demonstrate all the benefits of the dissolutions.

Because of the specific limitations surrounding the disintegrated companies by virtue of the decrees, both the President and his attorney general have insisted that a resumption of the old combination would be impossible. If, on the other hand, experience should show, despite their convictions, that the decrees were inadequate, the question could be re-opened in the courts and full opportunity, in their judgment, afforded to supply the defects.

The government at this time, it is indicated, is keenly on the alert not only to detect any resumption of the old combinations dissolved by the Supreme Court, but also any new form of monopoly in those industries.

BEAUFORT RECORDERSHIP.

Second Primary Looks Like Windley is a Winner.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., Sept. 20.—A second primary was held in this county today to determine which candidate should win the office of recorder. The fight lay between W. D. Grimes and W. B. Windley. Returns from all but one precinct tonight give Windley a majority of 85 over Grimes.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 20.—The official report of the battle between rebels and Federals 27 miles south of ... yesterday and today gave the rebels' losses 20 killed and 35 wounded. The Federal loss was nine killed and 16 wounded. Both sides sustained their heaviest loss during the fighting last evening. The rebels under Salazar are reported to have withdrawn to the West after today's battle.

New York, Sept. 20.—Cincinnati and New York divided their double-header today, Cincinnati winning the first game 4 to 2, and New York the second 4 to 1.

By losing the first game New York suffered its fourth straight defeat—its longest losing streak of the season. Cincinnati took this game in the first inning, when four hits off Marquard with two errors, yielded four runs.

In the next five innings Marquard did not allow a man to reach first. Devore's batting won all four runs for New York in the second game. He drove in two runs with a single, and scored himself on Snodgrass' hit, all in the third inning. In the sixth he hit a home run. Cincinnati's runs were due to Grant's single, a steal and wild throws by Wilson and Snodgrass.

KILLED IN FIGHT

Deputy Sheriff Shot By Oklahoma Bootleggers

Collinsville, Okla., Sept. 20.—In a pistol fight near here tonight, the second officers have had with bootleggers in as many days, Deputy Sheriff Carl Scarr, of Rogers county, was killed and Sheriff Sanders was slightly wounded. The two officers had seized a wagon load of liquor and were making their way to Collinsville when fired upon by three men. Scarr and Sanders returned the fire. After Rogers was killed, although shot in the arm, he overpowered one of the men who gave his name as John Ettor and arrested him. The others escaped.

R Lee Bowman, an officer, was killed and Town Marshal Mayberry, of Lenopah, was wounded, when destroying confiscated liquor near Caney, Oklahoma, yesterday. This also was attributed to "bootleggers."

Detroit, Sept. 20.—Young Ramey Macy sprung a big surprise at the State fair grounds this afternoon when he drove The Wanderer to victory in the Michigan $10,000 stake. Rorch Medium, Geer's entry, of whom much was expected, failed to finish inside the money. The Wanderer, overlooked by those who "pick the winners," took kindly to the heavy going and after finishing last in the first heat, went out and took the next three in impressive style.

New York, Sept. 20.—For the first time in New York history a Roman Catholic priest has been named a deputy sheriff. The new wearer of the shield is the Rev. Father James B. Detroit, Sept. 20.—Joe Wood, of Boston, invincible since early in July, attempted today to win his 17th straight victory at the expense of Detroit and failed. In a gruelling, bitterly fought contest, the locals triumphed 6 to 4. Wood's record of 16 consecutive victories tied the league mark established this season by Walter Johnson, of Washington.

"Tex" Covington, who spent part of this season pitching for minor league clubs, was officially credited with the victory. The score was 3 to 1 in Detroit's favor in the fifth inning, when Covington was put out of the game after an argument with Umpire O'Loughlin over a ball pitched to Krug. Lake succeeded him and was hit hard, Boston immediately forging ahead. Lake's single started a rally in the Detroit half and Crawford's single to center produced two tallies, enough to give Detroit the advantage the rest of the way. Lake held the new league champions hitless after the fifth. Wood appeared to be pitching under a severe strain. In the third he walked Covington, Bush, Corridon and Crawford in rapid succession. Then Krug dropped Cobb's pop fly which gave Detroit a total of three runs. Covington allowed but one scratch hit.

PRELIMINARIES POSTPONED.

But Vanderbilt Cup and Grand Prix Races Will be Run.

Wauwautosa Race Track, Wis., Sept. 20.—Just before 2 o'clock the Pabst and Wisconsin trophy races were postponed until Tuesday because of the condition of the course. It was announced, however, that the Vanderbilt race would be run tomorrow and the Grand Prix on Monday.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 20.—Race officials and motoring enthusiasts tonight, on the eve of the eighth scheduled running of the historic Vanderbilt cup automobile race, almost gave up hope of witnessing the contest.

Continued rainy weather has made the Wauwatoso race course so soft that it has become dangerous and the forecast issued tonight was "colder and unsettled weather." Officials of the Milwaukee Automobile Dealers' Association, officials of the American Automobile Association, and the drivers and owners of cars entered in the race conferred tonight in an effort to hit upon some scheme that will prevent further postponements of the racing programme which has been delayed twice by rain.

PROTECTION URGED.

Tariff War Imminent in the Dominion of Canada.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 20.—Extensive changes in the Canadian tariff designed to effect a more complete protective wall for Canadian industries will be urged on the government by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which meets here next week. The steel interests and the woolen manufacturers are particularly active.

Two distinct forces will clash on the tariff question at the coming session of Parliament. The eastern conservatives are high protectionists, while those from the West are low tariff men.

BASEBALL THI SAFTERNOON

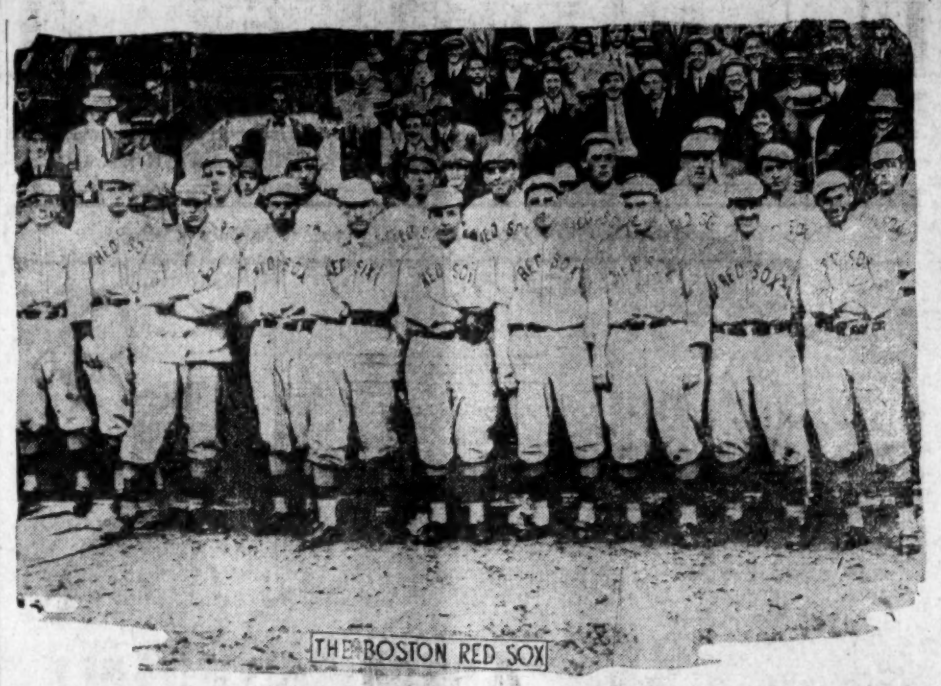
Delgado Team and Boys' Brigade Nine Meet for Another Contest

At League Park this afternoon the Delgado baseball team and the nine of Company B, of the Boys' Brigade, will meet for the second time this season. The first game was played last Saturday and resulted in a victory for the Delgado team by a close s core. The teams are pretty evenly matched and another fine contest is expected this afternoon. The admission will be 25 cents. The game will begin promptly at 3:30 o'clock. Ample street car service will be furnished by the Tidewater Power Co.

Many Driven From Home

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

BOSTON RED SOX, CHAMPIONS OF THE AMERICAN LEAGUE



Boston, Sept. 20.—Boston is baseball mad, and here are the players who have brought about this condition. And now Boston expects the Red Sox to defeat the Giants in the forthcoming games for the championship of the world. There is no "if" or "and" about it from the Boston point of view. The thing has to be done, and it will be done. The Boston players shown in the picture are, from left to right: Yerkes, Wood, Bedient, Nunemaker, Hooper, Manager Stahl, Carrigan, Wagner, Speaker, Pape, Krug, Cady, Engle, Hendrickson, Hall, O'Brien, Bradley and Lewis.

AUTO CONTEST AT ASHEVILLE

Hill-Climbing October 3rd, Under A. A. A. Auspices

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 20.—The consolidated committee which has charge of the arrangements for the automobile hill-climbing contest, which takes place here October 3rd, had a meeting this morning at the garage of the Asheville Automobile Company and after considering several hills in the city suitable for holding the contest and measuring them for the half-mile it was decided that South French Broad avenue would be the best place from the standpoints of safety, sport, etc. The aldermen had already given consent for the contest to be held on Flint street, but it is thought that French Broad will be better in many respects and the aldermen will be asked to consent to the change.

The committee had a meeting last night at which several matters were considered. The public safety committee reported that Chief of Police Lyerly had promised ten or more officers to patrol the course. Major Young, of the militia, stated today that the State troops could not act as patrolmen unless they should be sworn in as special policemen.

J. A. Costin, J. C. Donald and Jno. B. Rumbough were named to act as the central committee to manage the races and contests. They will act as the executive committee and the contests will be under the regulations of the American Automobile Association.

The application for the sanction of the A. A. A. must be accompanied by some sort of a programme and the committee has been working today on this and considering the fees for entry.

It was decided last night to recommend a local man to represent the A. A. A., and C. H. Hites was nominated. His name will be submitted to the association.

LOOKING FOR INCENDIARIES

Soldiers and Bloodhounds Search W. Va., Mountains for Fire Bugs.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 20—Scores of soldiers with bloodhounds are searching the mountains at the head of Carbon creek today for the men who last midnight tried to fire the tipple of the South Carbon Coal Company and the residence of Charles Cable, superintendent of the mine. Creeping along the paths in the dense forest, unknown parties passed through the lines of guardsmen and making their way to the tipple saturated portions of it with oil and were ready to apply the torch when they were discovered by a sentry who fired his gun. The men ran along the railroad for a short distance and disappeared in the woods.

A few minutes later a man was seen trying to set fire to the Cable residence, not far away. He, too, was fired upon, but escaped. There were 200 soldiers scattered through the woods within a mile of the place and they were quickly under arms. Bloodhounds were brought up from military headquarters at Pratt and early today they struck two trails, which are being followed through the densely wooded mountains. These attempts at incendiarism are the most daring since the strike was inaugurated, following as they do closely on the heels of the destruction by fire of the tipple of the Carbon Coal Company nearby earlier in the week.

The military forces were reinforced this morning by a company of infantry bringing the total number of soldiers in that immediate section to 250.

Private Charles Campbell, Company E, of Parkersburg, mistaken last night for an intruder by a sentry at Sherokee, W. Va., and shot before he could make himself known, was somewhat improved today, and his recovery is expected.

Gainesville, Fla., Sept. 20.—Marshall Joel Hall, of Waldo, was shot to death in a suburb of Gainesville tonight, when he was assisting Deputy Sheriff Ed. Wheeler to arrest a crowd of negroes who were gambling in a church. The negroes were being marched out of the church when Lonnie Lewis, one of them, opened fire on the officer. The bullets took effect in Hall's throat and he died in a few minutes. A posse with bloodhounds is in pursuit of the negro, who made his escape.

Much as Governor Wilson may "riddle" Roosevelt's platform he never can make it more of a riddle than it really is.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

on "The Importance of Negative Eugenics, or the Prevention of Ill-Born" featured the closing session.

Pointing out the impracticability of the plan of Sir Francis Galton, of London, who advocated the inter-marriage only of those persons who represented the highest development in physical, moral and intellectual powers as the best method of improving the race, Dr. Hutchinson urged that the question was not now how to produce the really fit, but how to prevent the production of the unfit. He said the time to start the plan was in childhood and that symptoms of feeble mindedness, insanity, criminality and prostitution could be detected in the child between the ages of three to 10 years.

All children who were found in this class, he said, should be segregated into open-air colonies and every attention given to bring them up to as high a standard as possible. He suggested that the sterilization of grown persons in this class as a means of preventing the ill-born. He added that the greatest reservoirs for degenerates were colonies where feudists, outlaws, moonshiners, etc., living under only animal conditions in moral communities and the conditions under which the idle rich live in this country.

The doctor asserted from 30 to 50 per cent. of the drunkenness and from 40 to 80 per cent. of the prostitution was caused by mental defects.

"Prevent the ill-born and you will have no use for your asylums, jails, criminal courts and police officers," he concluded.

PAPERS FOR WILSON.

Providence Journal Comes to Aid of Democratic Candidate.

New York, Sept. 20.—One of the most encouraging phases of the present trend toward Wilson is the change in attitude of certain great daily newspapers. A few days ago the San Francisco Call, long a high priest of the Republicans on the Pacific Coast, and more recently an exponent of so-called "progressive Republicanism", announced that it would not support Taft, that it would not support Roosevelt, and came out strong for Wilson and Marshall.

Now comes the Providence Journal, which for years was the official organ of former Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, and of Speaker Henry F. Lippitt and George P. Wetmore. In the editorial announcing it will support the Democratic ticket, it says:

"As an independent newspaper, bound to no party and desirous only of serving the public good, the Journal believes that the election of Woodrow Wilson as President of the United States is demanded by every consideration of the National welfare.

"To whom then, at such a juncture can intelligent and patriotic men turn if not to Governor Wilson? How, as the Journal asked on the occasion of his speech of acceptance, can such men fail to respond to so inspiring a call? The question is no longer one of mere partisanship. It is at bottom a question of morals. Governor Wilson does not indulge in the cant of affecting to be greater than his party; but he does appear to men outside of the party to join with him in discovering and applying a remedy for admitted evils. He is no blind reactionary, no wild-eyed radical. He does not believe, like Mr. Taft, that a tariff guaranteeing profits to special interests is the golden source of all our prosperity, or, like Mr. Roosevelt, that Utopia is to be established by a domineering bureaucracy with an infallible head. 'We need no revolution,' he says: 'we need no excited change; we need only a new point of view and a new method of spirit of counsel.' The Nation will be fortunate if its next Uresident deals with vital issues in such a fashion. It will be fortunate if the lofty ideals of Woodrow Wilson inspire the new administration. The Journal is glad to give its earnest support to such a man."

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Ignatz Seminiouk, a Prussian aviator with a French license, flying at the aviation meet in Grant park, was rescued a mile out in Lake Michigan late yesterday afternoon by a motor boat after his hydro-aeroplane had been blown to pieces by an explosion of the radiator and just as he was sinking with the last remnant of the framework. He was badly burned about the back. Hundreds of people on the shore witnessed the accident.

PREPARE FOR OPENING.

Eyes of Business World Turned on Panama Canal.

Washington, Sept. 20.—In a report on the Panama canal and Pan-American trade, John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union, who recently made a trip through Europe to study what European governments and commercial interests are doing to get ready for the opening of the Panama canal, declares that every important port of Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Austria, Holland and Belgium is "being improved to the highest degree of efficiency for over-sea commerce."

Every European shipbuilding yard of recognized standing is busy to its capacity constructing ocean-going merchant vessels, the report adds. European governments are instructing their diplomatic and consular officers to study and report upon every phase of trade opportunity expected to result from the canal. Their chambers of commerce and other commercial organizations are co-operating along the same line and the business schools are educating trained men for the field.

Agents and trade scouts are being sent to Latin-America and to all parts of the world affected by the canal to investigate trade possibilities.

STATE COMMITTEE'S ACTION

Absorbing Topic in Raleigh Yesterday —Construction of Meaning of "Democratic Ticket" Regarded as Too Strict

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 20.—The absorbing topic today is the action of the State Democratic executive committee in the early morning hours, after an all-night session, adopting a hard and fast construction of "Democratic ticket" that it is exacted shall be voted before electors shall have the privilege of expressing their preference for United States Senator as between Senator Simmons, Governor Kitchin and Chief Justice Clark, as meaning "all the nominees of the Democratic party for office" a construction that is conceded by all to mean voting the Democratic ticket from President to township constable.

This resolution was finally adopted after a number of other resolutions of liberal construction and amendments to this one, had been voted down. Many are predicting that there may be a call a week or two later to open this matter and in the end procure a change that will admit of some reasonable degree of scratching. If this construction is left in force, it is urged by many, it will cost the Democratic party large numbers of votes in the general election. Great numbers of staunch Democrats, it is insisted by many, have something against one or another of the local or State nominees and will not vote for them, but if there was a way in which they could scratch this or that name, voting no opposition ticket, however, they would go into the election and have a perfect right to vote for Senator. However, under the operation of this Hackett resolution many of these will simply have no incentive to go to the polls and will overlook the election.

State Chairman Webb, expresses regret that the committee construction of "Democratic ticket" is so stringent but is glad that the matter is settled and out of his way. The issue had perplexed him greatly and promised all sorts of entanglements. He urged on the committee last night, or rather early this morning, while the matter of adopting the Hackett resolution was pending; that there be a modification. He offered this: "Provided no elector who shall vote for any candidate running on a ticket in opposition to any Democrat, shall vote in the Senatorial primary." This was accepted by Mr. Hackett for his resolution, but so strongly opposed that it was withdrawn by unanimous consent.

All during the committee meeting final agreement on some right to scratch the ticket seemed just ahead, an alluring will-o-the-wisp, and the committee struggled on after it until past one o'clock, when it gave up and had Manager McNinch, of the Kitchin campaign; Cameron Morrison, A. W. McLean, Judge Biggs, E. L. Travis and others designated as a special committee of friends of the different candidates for the Senate, named as a special committee to see if it could get to gether on some basis of "scratching." Then frequent and insistent calls for this special committee to report so there could be adjournment brought statements from the special committee that while it had not agreed an agreement seemed possible, and, indeed, close at hand. In the end there was a dramatic moment when Cameron Morrison, for the special committee, announced that they had despaired of getting together and explained that he did not consider it wise to go into the matter of the differences that brought this condition about. There were calls from committeemen for the vote whereby the Hackett resolution had passed, be reconsidered and leave the whole question up to the judges of election where it rightly belonged, according to the views of many, but the great majority would not hear to this and numerous motions and seconds for adjournment quickly brought the long and stirring session to a close.

United States Senator Simmons has expressed to his friends his thorough satisfaction at the action of the committee in adopting the Hackett resolution. Managers of the campaigns of both Governor Kitchin and Judge Clark express their conviction that the adoption of the Hackett resolution will be much more satisfactory than any modification that it seemed possible for them to get.

The possibility seems to grow more remote all the time for there to be any later call for the committee to adopt any modification that will open the door for any scratching of the ticket.

SCHOOL CHILDREN STRIKE.

Protest to Baltimore Mayor Against School Being Given to Negroes.

Baltimore, Sept. 20.—Carrying banners setting forth their grievances in glaring words, half a hundred school boys, whose ages range from six to 15 years, marched to city hall today and protested to Mayor Preston against their school being taken from the white pupils and given over to negro children.

The mayor listened smilingly to the 15-year-old spokesman of the delegation, who put the case in plain school boy language and solemnly warned his honor "that if you turn us out it will mean the death of the Democratic party in Baltimore."

"Too bad," laughed the mayor, who told the boys he could do nothing, as he never interfered in school affairs.

The meeting came to a sudden end when a shrill voice broke in with the announcement that a photographer wanted to take their picture for the newspapers.

The school board recently transferred the pupils of public school No. 91, at Argyle avenue and Lanvale street to other schools because it is an almost exclusively colored district. The board's refusal to restore the school to the whites led to a strike of the transferred children.

SOUTHPORT BREVITIES

Special Term of Court Next Week—Soldiers Paid Off—Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., Sept. 20.—A special one-week term of Superior Court convenes here Monday, Sept. 23rd, for the trial of civil cases. This special term was originally set for August 5th, being later postponed for the convenience of Judge S. G. Bragaw at his request. Among the most important cases on the docket are the following: Russ vs. Waccamaw Lumber Company, a suit to determine payment of mortgage; State vs. White and Bank of Southport, being parties; Gaylord vs. McCoy. This is an interesting case, the action being brought by Geo. O. Gaylord, who had an option upon certain lands in Northwest township, given by McCoy. There exists an alleged misunderstanding as to the lands upon which McCoy gave the option and the action is brought demanding a specific performance, $10,000 being involved. A case on the docket that will hardly be reached, but most important and involving some 600 acres east of Southport with a mile and a half of water front on the Cape Fear river, is that of Headman, et al, vs. Leonard, et al. The lands involved are those of the Southport Land Company and the W., B. & S. Railroad Co. The evidence in this case is very voluminous.

The regular Fall term of Superior Court convenes Monday, Sept. 30th, for the trial of criminal and civil cases. The week will be largely given to criminal cases, none important. Solicitor N. A. Sinclair, of Fayetteville, will be the prosecutor. Judge S. G. Bragaw, of Washington, N. C., comes to Brunswick county for the first time in his official capacity. His coming is of much interest to those not acquainted with him, because of the very favorable mention given him by the press where he has held court.

A matter of considerable local importance, financially, was the arrival at Fort Caswell a few days ago of the Federal paymaster. As the soldier boys had not been paid off in over three months, it can be imagined that besides the soldiers there were others equally as glad to see the government representative, for not all soldiers are independent of their monthly pay. The $33,000 that came gladdened many a storekeeper, while the postoffice here had a run on its money order department. The following story that was brought over from the Fort coincident with the arrival of the U. S. paymaster, shows equal ingenuity and absurdity. The steamer General Getty went to Wilmington for the paymaster, but for some reason the steamer Mercur was employed to bring him down. The General Getty coming down when near Cove Island ran over and upset a boat in which were two men, and, of course, had to rescue them. These men when taken aboard acted in a very suspicious manner, looking about and asking concerning "government money for Fort Caswell." They were found to be fully armed and being arrested and examined confessed that their upset was to get aboard the General Getty and attempt to sneak away with some part of the money that was to pay off the soldiers. The above story went the rounds here for a few hours and was, of course, denied when investigated.

The mullet run of fish is about on, the fish now becoming larger each day. A catch of mackerel off this coast some days ago showed that the possibilities for such fish are here, and it only needs the efforts to make the mackerel business regular and successful with financial benefits for Southport.

The Southport State High School opened for the Fall term last Monday, with the following teachers in charge: H. H. McVawn, principal; Misses Lucile Ramsey, Blanche Barnett and Bessie Burrows, teachers. A tenth grade has been added to the school course this year, and instead of a single-day session, there are morning and afternoon sessions.

The W., B. & S. Railroad ran a special train from here Thursday night to Wilmington for those who wanted to see Al. G. Field's minstrels. It was the first run from here for amusement purposes. About 50 went, and unfortunately some could not get in to see the show because of the crowd and having neglected to engage seats in advance.

WESTERN CAROLINA FAIR.

Exhibits of Manufactures to be One of the Features.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 19.—One of the features of the Western North Carolina Fair this Fall will be exhibits by manufacturers which will show how certain of the products are made. Secretary Guy Weaver said this morning that the management wished to have as many manufacturers as possible provide exhibits of this kind. The Reems Creek Pottery Works has consented to put up a lathe on the fair grounds and demonstrate how jars, jugs, pots, etc., are made. This will be one of the most interesting features of the fair.

An effort is being made to get a band to furnish music throughout the fair. The First Regiment Band may be secured, or one may come from Spartanburg.

AVIATOR BLAIR KILLED.

Fell 30 Feet While Making Flight at Shenandoah, Ia.

Shenandoah, Ia., Sept. 20.—Aviator Russell Blair, of Kansas City, while making an exhibition flight here today, was killed in a fall from a height of 30 feet.

Blair had just made a successful flight and had landed some distance from the crowd. When he attempted to rise from the ground again his machine struck an air current and turned over. Blair was pinned underneath the wreckage and when aid reached him he was dead. His head had been crushed under his engine.

BIG DEAL IN MOUNTAIN TIMBER

Stumpage on 69,000 Acres of The Vanderbilt Estate, Near Asheville, Purchased by Louis Carr—Operations Begin atOnce

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 20.—Louis Carr, who first became known in this country when he purchased the Murchison timber contract near Mt. Mitchell, today closed a trade with C. D. Beadle, of the Vanderbilt estate, for the timber stumpage of 69,000 acres of land, all but about 50,000 acres of the timbered part of the estate. It is understood that the price was between $750,000 and $800,000. He has 20 years to remove the timber and it must be done without injury to the young growth. The land constitutes the Davidson and Mills River watershed. He will begin operations at once.

DEATH AT MAXTON.

Mr. John A. Southerland Passes—Electrical Storm—Destructive Fire.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton, N. C., Sept. 19.—Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of his kinsman, Mr. A. H. Currie, Mr. Jno. A. Southerland, who Saturday had a stroke of paralysis, died. From the first no hope was entertained as to his recovery on account of his age, he being 74 years old. He was buried this afternoon at the old Southerland burying grounds in Scotland county.

In a recent electrical storm a stroke of lightning performed a very peculiar freak on the Red Springs line of the Carolina Telephone & Telegraph Co. Beginning about one mile north of Maxton, it split, shivered or cut in two over 17 of its successive poles. New ones have been placed and will soon be erected. The question has been frequently asked what, if anything, would have happened to one had he been passing at that time?

Cotton is opening rapidly and the fields are filled with pickers. It is being marketed about as rapidly as it can be gathered. The general opinion is that the crop is quite short. Some fields are just being picked for the first time and so few unopened bolls remain unpicked that one wonders if it will be picked the second time. In some fields the seed are sprouting in the bolls, though this is the exception for the grade this year is very good.

At 3 o'clock this morning fire destroyed the three brick stores owned by Mrs. F. L. Robbins. They were occupied by negro tenants and the general opinion is that the fire first caught in the shoe shop of J. W. Wiggins. Shortly after the alarm was given two streams of water were playing on the fire, but it was very stubborn. The stores were on Wilmington street just across from the Seaboard cotton platform and on it were about 200 bales of cotton besides four cars that had just that afternoon been loaded. These cars were pushed out of danger. The fire was confined to the one building, though cheap wooden shacks surrounded it. The loss of these latter would have been of decided advantage to the town, but were never in any danger on account of the stillness of the night. There was only a little insurance on the buildings and none on the contents.

Dr. J. O. McClelland, who recently came to Maxton from a mining town, had quite an amusing and to him a new experience, in his practice here. He was called to see a negro whom he found very earnestly pleading in prayer for recovery. He had so worked himself up that it was with difficulty that he was quieted enough for an examination to be made. When he realized who his visitor was he said, "Doctor, there ain't nothin' you can do for me for I'se done trusted myself to the one above and if He sees fit to call His chile home, home I'se gwine. But, doctor, I'se glad to see you and doctor, do what you kin for me."

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the
WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Saturday, September 21, 1912.

Strike the "b" from ball and it still leaves all of the word.

Why did they put rum in such a sober-sided word as grum?

Let us all "stand at Armageddon" and put the Third Termer under foot.

Everybody's overdoing it by making out like they are the only Democrats.

It is hoped nobody will hit one over the fence to bring the Bull Moose to third.

The only Democrats who are wrangling are the Democrats who want the offices.

A ray which sheds a great deal of light in Maryland is the one in Senator Rayner.

None of the Presidential candidates are in the same class with the classical Woodrow Wilson.

Europeans say there is no art in America, and yet our ladies can paint and look prettier than any European picture.

Mention is made of a man who "lived to be forty and never told a lie." No doubt he was a bachelor and never knew what it was to have to tell a lie.

A New Jersey congregation demanded the resignation of their pastor because "he wasn't a good mixer". They must expect their preacher to act like a Kentuckian.

When Woodrow Wilson spoke at some place in Iowa, it is said "he gave his hand to 3,000 people." Well, if they play it right they will find that it is a winning hand.

No man has a right to define who is or who is not a Democrat unless he subscribes $1 to the campaign fund. What's the use of blowing around unless you let your money show that you mean what you say?

Speaking about queer names, the Columbia State notes that "Dr. Finefrock is a Democratic candidate for State Senator in Ohio." No doubt Dr. Finefrock will wear well with the ladies if he keeps his skirts clean.

It is said the lady voters of California do not believe that Roosevelt is sincere in his sudden conversion to the cause of the suffragettes. For a long time we have suspected him of being a suffrager instead of a suffragist.

Both the Republican and Bull Moose parties levy taxes on the people to aid Big Business and make multi-millionaires. They let the little fellows shift for themselves. Who's loony now, if he votes so that he not only has to work to support his own family but be made to come across for the benefit of the tariff beneficiaries?

Subscribe to the Wilson campaign fund at once or it will be too late. The Star will receive your contribution and forward it to the National Democratic treasurer to aid in sending speakers to the people. Don't let us miss this chance to elect a Democratic President and put an end to privilege and monopoly maintained by levying tribute on the people.

If it is justifiable to tax the people of a Nation to support the other fellow's industries, why is it not equally justifiable to tax the people of a city for the benefit of a privileged set who are in some manufacturing business for what they can make out of it? The Republican tariff policy is making socialists out of men, who, rather than submit to taxation for private enterprises, are turning to government ownership as a more justifiable proposition.

TAFT'S TRAILING TRUTH TELLERS

"Taft's trailing truth tellers." Get next. That is what ex-Congressman J. Adam Bede, of Minnesota, and John Maynard Harlan, of Chicago, are called on the Western trail taken by the Bull Moose in his speaking tour. Bede and Harlan are spielers for Taft, and they are waking the snakes as they follow up the Third Termer. No doubt the Colonel thinks the Ananias Club has broken loose, and is tracking him as he goes. They are going wherever he has been, and they are disputing the truthfulness and accuracy of the Roosevelt allegations and asservations. They are calling the Bull Moose down before large audiences, and the racket in his rears is arousing the wrath of the chief cook and bottle washer at Armageddon.

"We stand at Armageddon," said the Colonel, but, by George, he appears to be making one-night stands. He is rushing the trail and has covered an immense territory, propounding his "confession of faith." The strenuous one has swiftly sped across the continent and startled the the natives with his doctrines and war whoops as he leads the hosts in "the battle of the Lord." The Taft truth telling trailers are right on the job, and they are handing out stuff red hot and juicy enough to make Taft forget his gout and jump up and crack his heels together. Just as a sample sizzler we quote here this extract from one of Harlan's warm numbers delivered Tuesday, before a large audience in the Temple Auditorium at Los Angeles, Cal.:

"I know of nothing more typical of the whole Roosevelt propaganda than the red flag that he flies at the masthead of his party ship. Not even the black flag of piracy contains in it more deadly menace to American institutions.

"But this is on a par with all the pretense of the big Bull Moose propaganda. Even Roosevelt does not dare to wave a real red flag of anarchy, and he thinks that you will be too blind to see its menacing significance, disguised as a bandanna handkerchief. But the significance is there; it signifies anarchy and the destruction of every institution that our American hearts hold dear.

"Col. Roosevelt," said Mr. Bede, "says when the Archbolds are against him the people should be for him. But he took Archbold's money when he could get it, and is soliciting campaign funds from law-breaking corporations now.

"The Colonel shouts for publicity, but refuses to tell the public where he got the millions that were spent in his primary campaign this year.

"Today he is at Armageddon battling for the Lord. But in 1904 he was battling for campaign slush funds, and when Mr. Bryan urged publicity before election, the Colonel threw a fit of scorn at the Commoner. It would not look well in print to say that $125,000 was received from the Standard Oil, and an additional $150,000 refused by Archbold."

Of course, the Bull Moose was not in the neighborhood to show his teeth at Harlan and Bede, the humorist, who hands out the funny stuff and gives Armageddon the "ha, ha!" Suppose the Rough Rider were to whip back on the trail, and, like one of his wounded lions, go back to chew the rag with the "trailing truth tellers!" However, the Colonel has kept his trailers on the jump. He has made a long tour through the Northwest and down the Pacific coast to Arizona, in which new State he spoke three times on Tuesday last. He is traveling part of the time on special trains, and is now hitting the trail towards the East. He is leading the trailers a route that they can only cover by chartering a Kansas tornado.

JONES HE PAYS THE FREIGHT.

Exhorbitant express rates are responsible for the parcels post, which really is an express business conducted by the government. The parcels post really makes the government a competitive express carrier, and if the government does not make enough out of it to pay expenses, it will tax all the people for the purpose of making the carrying charge cheaper for those who patronize the parcels post.

This week we paid 90 cents express on a package of only 15 pounds sent from New York. A few days ago we paid 30 cents express on a basket containing 18 apples, six Irish potatoes and seven onions sent from a station only 16 miles from Wilmington. That made the apples, potatoes and onions cost about one cent apiece in freight. No wonder, therefore, the cost of living is altitudinous. It tends to convince us that exorbintant charges for distribution are largely responsible for expensive food products.

The government express system, otherwise called the parcels post, will afford the people in cities and rural communities a completer and more efficient method of distribution, but the question is whether the government, with its higher paid employes, and more expensive political system, can do the business cheaper than a corporation or a regular carrying company. However, it is said the parcels post works admirably in England, where it was recently ruled by the postal authorities that a girl can send herself by mail. Even so, it would cost a good deal of money to send a girl through the mails—but how would you like to be the mail carrier or the female carrier, as the case may be?

We have no idea what the postage rate on a girl would be, but we have an idea that "Jones he would pay the freight" and not grumble a bit—unless he is a married man. It staggers us, however, to imagine what the express rate would be on a North Carolina girl who is worth her weight in gold. Lots of us just couldn't pay the freight at the rate on apples, potatoes and onions. Carrying rates like some express rates make the parcels post look good, and to the Democratic House is due the credit for the bill making the government a carrier and distributor.

WHO IS A DEMOCRAT?

The State Democratic Executive Committee at its meeting in Raleigh on Thursday night laid down a rule which will just about define who is a Democrat. In deciding the question as to the qualifications for nominating a Democratic Senator on the 5th of November, the committee decided that only a Democrat is entitled to take part in the selection of a nominee for Democrats to support.

The committee decided that a Democrat is a voter who votes for "all the Democratic nominees for office." All strict Democrats ought to be satisfied with that ruling, and the candidates surely ought to be, for the one who is nominated certainly will know that he is the choice of Democrats and not of a mixture of Republicans, Bull Moosers and Democrats. The rules bar voters who would vote for the Republican candidate for Governor and then want to nominate a Senatorial candidate for Democrats to vote for. If they vote against the candidate which Democrats nominate for Governor they certainly could not expect Democrats to feel bound to a Senatorial nomination made possible by voters who are not strictly Democrats.

The rule is a strict one, it is true, but who's making this nomination anyhow? The defininiton of the committee will debar some Republicans who vote for a few Democrats, and will debar some Democrats who vote for a few Republicans. That class of voters really are independents, and no candidate seeking a Democratic nomination should care to be nominated by independents who may hold the balance of power in the primary. According to the ruling a Democrat is a Democrat.

SAILING UNDER FALSE COLORS

The National Republican committee required the resignation of several members and expelled three because they refused to rsign One of those expelled was Richmond Pearson, of North Carolina The charge against them is "disloyalty to the Republican party" in supporting Roosevelt, the candidate of a party which is fighting the Republican party and its Presidential candidate

The Republican committee had to adopt that course, else have in its executive meetings men who belonged in another camp A question of discipline made it necessary to get rid of men who were pretending to be Republicans while actually being followers of a candidate who is doing his best to destroy the Republican party. It is sailing under false colors to profess one thing and practice another. The proprieties, as they are regarded by honorable men, would have dictated the resignation of the men who intended to vote for a man and a set of political vagaries totally out of line with everything Republican, except as to tariff graft for the privilege crowd. Those men should have resigned of their own accord in order to have appeared both consistent and honorable. They are on a par with a Democrat who would talk Democratic, pray for Republican success, and put in a vote on the sly for the Republican ticket.

Congressman D. Wyatt Aiken, of South Carolina, urges Democrats to "beware of overconfidence." We have been aware of it for several Presidential elections. No use to mention it, however, for overconfidence is chronic with a real Democrat.

If the country elects Taft and a Republican Congress there will be no relief of the people from the tariff burden placed on them for the privilege class. If it elects Roosevelt it will be worse still. The Bull Moose believes in taxing the masses for the classes, and one of his chief propositions is to recognize and legalize the monopolies which the people are determined to overthrow. If the people of this country desire to be taxed only to support their government but resent the Taft and Roosevelt idea of making all the people pay taxes to enrich a privilege class and support monopolies, they had better vote the Democratic ticket. All of us could get rich if the government would license us to make the masses contribute to our cart load of graft at the expense of the people. The trusts, the monopolists and the tariff beneficiaries have got every one of us working for them. That's all there is to it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

General Nogi wrote that he died because his services were no longer needed in this world. Oyster Bay papers please copy.—Columbia State.

Not that there's a particle of significance in a name, but in a motor boat race in New York the "Bull Moose" had to quit on account of engine trouble.—Columbia State.

Women belonging to a Democratic league will prepare supper for eight thousand on the occasion of the ratification cermonies in Washington. Not even the most prejudiced against equal rights will object to this way of women meddling in politics.—Baltimore American (Rep.)

Sentiment against capital punishment is certainly and slowly increasing. This sentiment is not so much the result of a reasoned and logical conviction against taking the life of an individual as it is a deep and instinctive revulsion against the horror of the actual fact.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

The New York bankers are strangely optimistic for a Presidential year. These are their ostensible reasons: The crops are heavy, labor is well employed, manufacturers are enlarging their plants and merchants are increasing their stocks. You see how easy it is. All we have to do is to loosen up instead of hiding our money in the cellar and everybody proceds to prosper. No need of hoarding and shaking just because there's to be an election. But in this case practically everybody feels that he knows how the election will result. The effect of Governor Wilson's elevation has been discounted.—Hartford Times (Ind.)

The Panama canal will be opened for traffic in December, 1913, according to a statement issued by the Navy Department. About 91 per cent of the concrete work for the locks was in place Sept. 1st and of the Gatun locks about 96 per cent was complete. It is intended to have the Atlantic fleet rendezvous at Colon this Winter, probably between Nov. 15th and Dec. 15th, in order that the officers may have an opportunity to inspect the locks and mechanism of the canal before the water is turned in. The date fixed for the formal opening is Jan. 1st, 1915. To have the canal ready a year in advance of the time limit is another tribute to American methods.—Savannah News.

In the North Carolina Democratic Hand Book, the pronouncement of Woodrow Wilson on waterways is given. Mr. Wilson does not call the money appropriated for this purpose, "graft." He says: "It is plain, too, that vast sums of money must be spent to develop new waterways where trade will be most served and transportation most readily cheapened by them. Such expenditures are no largess on the part of the government; they are National investments." Mr. Wilson also favors government aid for good roads. Because Simmons advocates these very things, he is called a grafter. We should say "was," because, since Wilson got on the same plank, the attacks on Simmons in that direction, have ceased.—Charlotte Observer.

TAFT TO HEAR PETITION.

Will Meet Committee of Postmasters Monday—League Elects Officers.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 20.—A telegram today from the executive office at Beverly, Mass., to the National League of Postmasters, in session here, advised the convention that President Taft will meet committees in Washington on Monday afternoon to receive its petition asking that all fourth class postmasters be put on the classification list of the civil service. This list has heretofore applied to only 14 States, in the territory north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river. Officers of the league said that the document contains more than 20,000 signatures.

Charles O. Barry, of Walker, Ia., was re-elected president. Other officers elected were: E. E. Cummings, New Woodstock, N. Y., first vice president; M. H. Webb, Simpsonville, Ky., second vice president; Miss Nellie V. Fitts, Springboro, O., third vice president; Charles C. Young, Oakwood, Ill., secretary, and H. H. Luccock, Keene, Texas, treasurer.

VA. DETECTIVES PAID.

State Settles for Outlaws' Capture—Nothing for Miss Iroler.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 20.—The State of Virginia today settled with detectives who were detailed to capture members of the Allen outlaw band which "shot up" the Carroll county court house on March 24th. Including previous settlements, about $12,500 has been paid by the commonwealth. Governor Mann today gave W. G. Baldwin a warrant on the State auditor for $2,200, the amount of the rewards offered for the capture of Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards. Detective Baldwin stated that Miss Maude Iroler, who went to Des Moines to marry Edwards, and who unwittingly led to his arrest, did not betray him and would receive no part of the reward. The real information which the detectives wanted, according to Baldwin, was given by her father, Frank Iroler, who will be offered $500 for his services. There has been no intimation from Iroler as to whether or not he will accept it.

FEARS FOR FATHER.

Orozco's Daughter Writes President Taft to Save His Life.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 19.—Fearful that her grandfather may fall into the hands of President Madero, of Mexico, which according to her mode of reasoning, would mean his death, Elena Orozco, the seven-year-old daughter of Pascual Orozco, Jr., leader of the revolutionists in Northern Mexico, and grand-daughter of Pascual Orozco, now under arrest at Marfa, Texas, sent this letter to President Taft today:

"Dear Mr. President Taft:—My father is not a murderer. He is a brave soldier fighting for his country. Please don't let the American soldiers give my grandfather to Mr. Madero for Mr. Madero would shoot him and that would just kill poor grandma."

Mrs. Orozco, mother of Gen. Orozco, is seriously ill from nervous breakdown at the Orozco home here.

BIT BY SETTER DOG.

Attacked Two Young Men in Greene. Record Auto Trip.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 20.—Ralph and Alpha Bynum, young men of Greene county, were severely bitten by a dog when they tried to make the animal desist from an attack on a hog. The dog, a pet setter, suddenly went on a rampage among the livestock on the farm of A. C. Bynum, near Snow Hill, and immediately turned on Mr. Bynum's two sons when they went to investigate his unusual action. Both were badly bitten. They went to Raleigh to be examined for signs of hydrophobia and to receive the Pasteur treatment if necessary.

What is believed to be an automobile record for this section of the State was made by Henry C. Sugg, of Greenville, N. C., a demonstrator, when he accomplished the trip from that town to Snow Hill, by way of Farmville, a distance of 75 miles, in 80 minutes. The machine was a Hupp touring car, and the run was made altogether on high gear. Mrs. Sugg was a passenger with her husband. Bad roads prevailed for the entire distance, and the record is considered remarkable for that reason.

Dewey Olinger, a Hookerton lad, has a pet bantam hen with a strange brood. Recently young Olinger found a partridge nest, and he took the eggs home. The hen sat readily enough, and in due time the hatching was successfully accomplished, and what is unusual, the partridge chicks stayed with their foster mother. In most cases where partridge eggs are hatched by a hen for experiment, they make for the woods immediately upon coming from the shells, but the Hookerton boy's covey are apparently domesticated.

Governor Kitchin will address the citizens of Onslow county at Jacksonville on Monday, October 7th, in the interest of his candidacy for the United States Senate. Efforts are being made by his friends in this city to get him to arrange a date to speak here on his trip East, but nothing definite has been determined.

Yesterday at one of the tobacco warehouses here, John Andy, the possessor of a trick pocketbook, offered to wager $5 that John Hardy couldn't open the purse at a given time. They are colored laborers at the warehouse, and evidently collaborators in a near "skin game." John Miller, an old negro from Onslow county, flush with money from his sales on the tobacco market, was the victim selected for the "fleecing". Hardy showed some interest in the offer of the trickster, and Miller, standing nearby, was attracted as was intended. The negro Hardy approached the old man for a loan, and Miller "loaned" him $5. Of course, Hardy did not open the pocketbook, and he was vexed at not being able to repay the Onslow darkey just then. The police were called in, and John Andy was haled to City Hall. But there was no evidence to hold him, the man Hardy simply having borrowed $5 from Miller with no stipulation to repay immediately, and Andy, who is a Philadelphia negro, had to be released.

Representatives of the Washington Herald who have been engaged in a town-advertising scheme for the paper here, have successfully concluded their work. The proposition is being advanced in various towns of the South with a view of increasing the paper's circulation, and the Herald is working in conjunction with the Southern Commercial Congress in exploiting the South to the world. Kinston business men were found readily co-operative by the agents. A page write-up of the city as a homeseekers' Mecca will follow in a couple of weeks, embellished with half-tone cuts and display headings. The chamber of commerce was enterprising in furthering the plan.

Evasion of a compulsory vaccination law in this city for public school children was successfully accomplished by many negroes sending their children to private schools, a number of which have sprung up in the colored sections of town. This state of affairs came to the notice of the city physician through reports of members of the colored public school faculty, who claim that a fraud is being perpetrated whereby the negroes can get away from the law until the vigilance of the authorities laves later in the season, when the children will be sent on to the free schools. The health officer found that fully two-thirds of the several hundred negro children in the public schools of Kinston had been vaccinated, due to the intelligent co-operation of the colored teachers. The remaining third were innoculated immediately.

FIGHT BEGUN IN KENTUCKY

Democratic Campaign for National Ticket Opened Yesterday

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 19.—The Democratic campaign for the National ticket was opened in Kentucky here today with a Statewide ratification of the nominations made at the Baltimore National Convention. A large crowd, estimated at 30,000, listened to speeches at the auditorium and two outdoor stands by Speaker Champ Clark, Senator Thos. P. Gore, of Oklahoma; Gov. James B. McCreary, Lieutenant Governor L. J. McDermott, Senator-elect Olie James and Congressman Swager Sherley, A. O. Stanley and Campbell Cantrill.

The Governor, Senator Gore and Speaker Clark spoke chiefly on the tariff issue and declared for a tariff for revenue only as demanded by the Democratic platform.

A great emancipator of the people who lets himself be beaten by the Vermont Democrats is in a pretty bad way. As we have said, this is failure; it is dismal failure. Mr. Roosevelt's third term movement is not an earthquake, it is not a convulsion of nature, it is only a temporary disturbance.—New York Times.

ALDERMANIC INQUIRY.

Commissioner Waldo Severely Grilled by Attorney Buckner.

New York, Sept. 20.—On the stand for the third time before the aldermanic committee which is investigating police conditions, Commissioner Waldo today disclaimed all responsibility for malfeasance claimed in rumors that he had appointed to his force many men rejected by predecessors, and whose records at police headquarters showed that they had been arrested for various offenses.

In answer to this and to instance after instance of men who had obtained appointment through false oaths as to age and other qualifications, as pointed out by Emory R. Buckner, who conducted the examination, the commissioner declared that he had put his whole trust in the Civil Service Commission and had appointed men in one, two, three order from the commission's list without having his own department investigate the character of the men.

The police bureau, which had previously made such investigations as a check upon the civil service, was abolished by Commissioner Waldo "because" as he said today, "I wanted to dispense with graft and rumors of graft, and to put the whole responsibility upon the civil service, where it belongs."

Lieutenant John J. Stanton, formerly in charge of that bureau, estimated that during his command of the bureau 10 per cent of the men certified by the civil service were rejected after being investigated.

Applicants more than 40 years old tried to pass as 30 on bogus birth certificates, he said, and he declared he had heard of a place on the east-side where bogus certificates were manufactured to order.

Commissioner Waldo, returning to the stand, was asked if he knew of such a certificate factory. "No," he replied to Attorney Buckner; "do you?"

"Yes, I do," the attorney answered, but he later admitted that he did not know where it was.

New York, Sept. 20.—In order to prevent any more escapes from the Tombs, a battery of powerful electric lights is being installed about the court yard and exterior of the prison. The lights are equipped with reflectors, so placed that every nook and cranny of the yard and walls is as light as day.

CURRENCY OUTSTANDING

Uncle Sam Makes Big Profit On Paper Money

Washington, Sept. 20.—There are millions of dollars of currency outstanding, lost, destroyed or being preserved as souvenirs, which the Federal government never will be called upon to redeem, according to a compilation of figures by the register of the Treasury.

This indicates that the government makes a big profit on its issues of paper money.

At the present time $15,232,093 is outstanding of the issue of fractional currency notes during the Civil War, familiarly known as "shin plasters." The total issue of these notes was nearly $369,000,000. It is known that many people are saving samples of them as relics and it is probable that very few of the outstanding $15,000,000 ever will be presented for redemption.

Of the nearly $1,000,000 worth of gold certificates issued during the Civil War, about $50,000 is still outstanding. There is also outstanding $1,095,000 of the $189,000,000 issue of gold certificates of the series of 1888.

R. DON LAWS NAMED

"Yellow Jacket" Editor Nominated For Congress In Seventh

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 20.—The Republicans of the Seventh North Carolina Congressional district in convention at Lexington, N. C., today nominated R. Don Laws, editor of the "Yellow Jacket" at Moravian Falls, Wilkes county, for Congress to oppose R. N. Page, the Democratic nominee. Eight of the 13 counties were represented with the Taft Republican present. The convention was held in the office of Zeb Vance Walser, the State chairman of the Progressive party.

Bernardsville, N. J., Sept. 20 — Mrs. John Jacob Astor and her millionaire baby are here for a week's outing. Both are in the best of health, it is declared. The baby had his first photograph taken leaving New York for this place. Only four copies of the picture will be printed, one for his grandparents, one for his mother, one for Vincent Astor and one to be retained by the photographer. The infant was a month old on September 14th.

RED CROSS SANITARIUM

Directors Met Yesterday Morning and Elected Officers

Organization of the Red Cross Sanitarium was perfected at a meeting of the directors in the Colonial Hotel yesterday morning, when officers were elected. Rev. Thos. P. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, was elected chairman; Dr. John C. Wessell was elected secretary and Col. John VanB. Metts treasurer. The following were named as the building committee: Mr. D. L. Gore, Rev. Thos. P. Noe and Dr. John C. Wessell. An auditing committee was named composed of Mr. Duncan McEachern to represent the County Commissioners; Mr. B. C. Moore, to represent the City Council, and Dr. John C. Wessell to represent the Red Cross Society.

The building committee was authorized by the board of directors to proceed with the erection of the sanitarium without referring the bids for the same back to the board of directors. Plans for the building, which is to be erected on the county home tract of land, have been prepared by Mr. J. F. Gause, Jr., the architect, and as soon as he gets the specifications ready bids will be called for. Work on the building is expected to commence within the next few weeks.

NEGRO LAD INJURED.

Driver of Goat Cart Avoids Automobile, Collides With Bicycle.

A negro lad, 10 or 11 years old, driving a goat cart yesterday afternoon on the brow of the hill on the new Greenfield road at Fourth and Wooster streets, saw a big automobile approaching and centering his attention on the big machine in an effort to avoid it, did not see the rapid approach of a negro bicyclist coasting down the hill. The result was that as the driver of the goat cart in attempting to cross the street east and west was run over by the bicyclist. One of his legs was broken and when picked up by Police Sergeant H. W. Howell, who happened to be in that vicinity his ears and nose were bleeding. A colored man attracted to the scene said the boy lived with his mother at Union Square and she was well able to take care of him. He was sent home and a physician summoned. The boy on the bicycle was about the same age and suffered some injuries, but not so severe as the driver of the goat cart. No blame could be attached to him and he was released.

MR. ROUNTREE ON HAZING.

His Views Given in Communication in Raleigh News and Observer.

The following from yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer will be of local interest:

"The people of North Carolina are opposed to hazing in the colleges of North Carolina, for from it evils have resulted in the past and there is a fear of evils in the future.

"While this is true there is no purpose on their part to prejudice the case of the young men who are under bond for trial in the matter of the death of young Rand. That death was a deplorable one, and from it there has come a sharp attention to the matter of hazing. It is that which the people desire to have ended, so that from it there can come no brutality or tragedy. That hazing is an evil is shown by the rules of colleges against it, and the people demand an enforcement.

"In reply to an inquiry from this paper as to their views on hazing sent to a number of gentlemen replies have been received. Among these is the following from Mr. Geo. Rountree, a prominent attorney of Wilmington. His letter reads:

"'To the Editor: I received your letter of yesterday, but I was so pressed with matters of immediate business that it was impossible for me to answer it as requested.

"'Of course all right minded people deeply regret the shocking tragedy at Chapel Hill; but it must be apparent to everyone that there was no element of viciousness and that it was a most unfortunate accident. It is true that the accident would not have occurred had not these young men engaged in "hazing"; and it seems to me to be also true that whatever may be said upon the advantages of "hazing" as a means of correcting a certain "freshness" or bumptiousness on the part of some young men, as an abstract proposition, public opinion in North Carolina reprobates the practice, and it is, I understand, expressly forbidden by the regulations of the university. While this is true, I deprecate the excited discussions of this question pending the trial of these young men. It seems to me that, while the matter is sub judice, there should be nothing said or done that could prejudice the decision of the cause. Surely these young men have suffered, and will suffer, grievously from the results of their prank, and excited and violent language never did tend, and never will, to the ascertainment of truth, or to the establishment of sound principles.

"'The tragic end of this universally esteemed young man has very properly profoundly wrought upon our sympathies; and I sincerely trust will be the means of inducing the student body to find some more effective and gentlemanly way of correcting the faults of youngsters than by such practical jokes.

"'Yours very truly,

"'GEO. ROUNTREE.

MR. E. O. GILLICAN DEAD

Former Wilmingtonian Passes Away In Memphis, Tenn.—Funeral

A telegram late yesterday afternoon to his mother, Mrs. Annie Gillican, No. 815 Chesnut street, conveyed to her and many friends in Wilmington the distressing news of the death of Mr. Edgar O. Gillican, formerly a resident here, but for a long time a citizen of Memphis, where he was secretary of the Board of Trade. The telegram gave no particulars. An earlier message stated to Mrs. Gillican that her son was desperately ill and this was fallowed a little later by the news that Mr. Gillican had passed away. He was 44 years of age and is survived by his wife, his mother, two sisters, Mrs. Oswald, of Charleston, S. C.; Mrs. L. G. Harriss, of Memphis and one brother Mr. N. E. Gillican, of Brunswick, Ga. The bereaved ones have the tenderest sympathy of many friends in their sorrow.

Plans for Telephone Exchange

Plans for the building to be erected by the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., at Villa View, just west of Wrightsville Sound, for the permanent office of the suburban exchange for that territory were received yesterday morning by Mr. Stephen D. Lucas, the local manager. The building will be a one-story frame dwelling and will be so arranged that the operator in charge may have his living apartments there. The contract will be let in a short time and it is estimated that only about 60 days will be required to erect the building.

HOLLY TRIAL BEGINS TODAY

Third Hearing of the Noted Case Will Be Held at Burgaw—Prisoner Will be Taken There This Morning—The Jury

J. C. Holly, ex-preacher and former proprietor of the burned Rock Springs Hotel, twice tried on the charge of the murder by poisoning of his ward, Edward Cromwell, early in August, 1910, will be taken from the county jail here this morning to Burgaw, where his third trial will begin shortly after his arrival there, the case having been transferred from the county to Pender at the last term of Superior Court in this city. It is quite likely that most of today will be consumed in the selection of a jury and that the taking of testimony will not begin until Monday.

Holly's attorney, C. D. Weeks and Wm. J. Bellamy, Esqs., are already in Burgaw giving further preparation to their defense and they expect to make the fight of their lives for the prisoner, whom they are defending by appointment from the court. They have fought hard for him from the first; the fact that he is about to enter a third trial is due to the masterful handling of the case at the former trials by his attorneys. The first time the case was tried the defendant was found guilty and sentenced to be electrocuted, but the Supreme Court granted a new trial, and at the second hearing only a few months ago a mistrial resulted, the jury, it was reported, standing eight to four in favor of acquittal. The attorneys are hopeful of clearing their client on the third trial. They preferred that the third trial take place in Wilmington, but the solicitor urged removal on the ground that it was improbable that a verdict would be reached in this county and Judge Frank Carter, who was presiding, granted the motion.

Holly was taken to Burgaw last Saturday and a special venire of over 100 men was drawn from which to select the jury. The week has been spent by the Sheriff of Pender and his deputies in summoning those whose names were drawn from the jury box. Holly was brought back to Wilmington, being in the custody of Jailer J. W. Branch, and placed in jail. He will be taken to Burgaw this morning in the custody of Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly. The prisoner will remain in Burgaw until the close of the trial.

While the attorneys for the defendant are hopeful of clearing their client of the charge against him Solicitor Henry E. Shaw will make a determined effort to secure conviction. The solicitor spent the past few days at Carolina Beach and left here yesterday morning for Burgaw. He stated while here that it is hoped to finish the trial by Wednesday night so that court may convene here Thursday morning. However, the trial may drag along even more slowly than the two preceding trials in this county and consume most of the week. The impression here, though, is that Judge Carter has made up his mind to have the case finished by Wednesday night and that it will be finished by then even if night sessions have to be held.

The crime for which Holly will be tried for the third time is familiar to the reading public. The Rock Springs Hotel, conducted by the defendant on Chesnut, between Water and Front streets, was practically destroyed by fire early one morning in August, 1910. After the fire had been in progress for some time the body of Edward Cromwell, Holly's ward, was found in his room by firemen who, after being notified that he was missing, made a search for him. There were suspicious circumstances and later in the day Holly was arrested on a charge of murder. The motive for the crime, according to the contention of the State, was the collection of $2,500 insurance on the boy's life, and it is also claimed that Holly had about $1,200 insurance on his household furniture and had moved most of his effects out of the house only a few days before the fire. The life insurance policy was assigned to Holly and the papers were returned from the company on the night of the fire.

There are a large number of witnesses in the case. Among the number are nine members of the fire department, including Chief Chas. Schnibben and Capt. W. P. Monroe, assistant chief. The firemen expect to go to Burgaw Monday.

WILL BUILD AT SALISBURY.

Mr. W. C. Petty Interested in Hotel Proposition in That City.

Mr. W. C. Petty, manager and part owner of the Stonewall Hotel in Charlotte and one of the promoters of the new hotel it is proposed to erect in this city at the southeast corner of Walnut and Front streets, expects to erect a 74-room hotel in Salisbury in the near future, according to an item which appeared in yesterday's Charlotte Observer. The news contained in the item was received with much interest here. The item is as follows:

"Mr. W. C. Petty, manager and part owner of the Stonewall hotel, will in the early future have erected at Salisbury a 74-room hostelry which will be operated under his management. He has purchased a part of the old Boyden property near the Southern station. It is stipulated under the terms upon which he secured the site that the work of construction must begin within 30 days. Plans are now being drawn and the contract will be let for the work just as soon as this is completed."

It has not yet been decided when work on the local hotel will be commenced. Owing to the death of Mr. Jamieson, one of the principal promoters, and the refusal of the estate to take any stock in the hotel, the project has necessarily been delayed for a few months until certain legal questions involved could be settled. Mr. T. A. Green, of Spartanburg, S. C., also one of the leading promoters, was here a few days ago and stated that the legal formalities had practically been complied with and that he expected to return in a short time to begin the actual construction of the hotel.

HOUSE MARKET

Council Decides to Give Long Term Lease on Stalls to Persons Who Will Install Improved Equipment—Meeting.

City Council held a special meeting yesterday morning to receive the written opinion of City Attorney Herbert McClammy as to the city's right to lease for a term of years any or all stalls of the city market houses and to take action in accordance therewith. The city attorney advised that Council had ample authority to lease the stalls for a term of years provided it was done upon the recommendation of the city superintendent of health that it was necessary from the standpoint of health and sanitation.

Some of the market house men had proposed to make extensive improvements on their stalls provided they were given a lease for a sufficient number of years to justify the expenditures. Council was favorably disposed to the proposition and asked the city attorney for a written opinion as to the municipality's right to make a lease for a period longer than one year. It was this opinion that Council received yesterday morning.

Dr. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, made an oral statement to Council to the effect that a lease of market stalls for a term of years was necessary for the preservation of the health of the community and upon this, following the advice of the city attorney, Council passed an ordinance authorizing and empowering the Mayor to lease the market house spaces for a period not exceeding five years. A resolution was adopted giving the city superintendent of health sufficient power to enforce regulations that will place all stalls in the city market houses in sanitary condition.

It was decided that the stalls, which were rented later in the day, be rented for one year with privilege of five years, provided the lessees install modern sanitary fixtures to cost not less than $3,000.

The meeting was presided over by Mayor Smith with all members in attendance, also Dr. Nesbitt, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Upon the recommendation of the city superintendent of health, that certain changes in the market house in the city of Wilmington, be made at once, and

"Whereas, on account of health and sanitary conditions it becomes necessary for the passage of this ordinance by reason of the urgent demands of the same, therefore, be it ordained by the city Council, of the city of Wilmington:

"Section 1. That the Mayor of the city of Wilmington be and he is authorized and empowered to lease the stalls in the market house in the city of Wilmington for such annual rental as may be approved by the Council of the city of Wilmington.

"Section 2. That the said Mayor be and he is hereby authorized and empowered to lease said stalls in the market house for a term of years not to exceed five years.

"Section 3. All ordinances or clauses of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

"Section 4. This ordinance shall be in force from and after its passage.

"Passed this, the 20th day of September, A. D., 1912."

The following resolution was also unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That all leases for three years or more for the stalls in any of the markets of the city shall carry with them such provisions as may be required by the City Council for the installation of suitable and sanitary equipment.

"This resolution does not in any way abrogate the right of the superintendent of health to enforce proper sanitary regulations for leases of a shorter term."

Market Spaces Rented.

Yesterday was the day for the annual renting of the market house stalls and spaces. As soon as the meeting of the Council adjourned Mayor Joseph D. Smith, who has charge of the markets; Councilman M. G. Tiencken, and Tax Collector Chas. H. White, went to Fourth Ward market house, where the spaces were rented, thence to Fifth Ward market and winding up at the Front street market. The places were rented as follows:

Fourth Ward Market—Stall No. 1, Josiah Cumber, premium, 25 cents, rent, $150; Stall No. 2, not rented; stall No. 4, W. Hansley, premium 25 cents, rent $75; fish market, Lister & McLeod, premium $10, rent, $200; store No. 1, J. H. Vereen, premium 25 cents, rent, $100.

Fifth Ward market—O. H. Kennedy market hall and stalls, premium 25 cents, rent, $272.

Front Street Market—Stall No. 1 Hopkins & Davis, premium 25 cents, rent, $500; Stall No. 2, J. H. Hintze, premium 25 cents, rent, $500; Stall No. 5, Hopkins & Davis, premium 50 cents, rent, $250; Stall No. 4, J. H. Hintze, premium $75, rent $150; Stall No. 5, Hapkins & Davis, premium 50 cents, rent $125; Stall No. 6, J. M. Holland, premium, $26.50, rent $125. Upstairs—Room 4, Hopkins & Davis, premium 25 cents, rent $18; Room 3, J. H. Hardin, premium 25 cents, rent $36; Room No. 1, not rented. Store No. 1, C. E. Collins, premium 25 cents, rent $300; Store No. 2, Hopkins & Davis, premium $150, rent, $300.

The stalls at the Front street market were rented according to the plans for the proposed improvements. Mr. J. F. Gause, Jr., the architect, was present and fully explained from the blue prints the improvements that are to be made. The plans call for a re-arrangement of the entire interior of the market house. The stalls are to be made larger but the number will be decreased.

It is expected that the contracts for the improvements of Front street market house will be awarded within a few days and the work will be begun right away. Some $4,000 or $5,000 is to be expended in the improvement of the place.

Fish spaces were not rented yesterday and the present occupants will hold them until the improvements to the market house have been completed, when some other place in the market house will be provided for them.

Submits Recommendations.

Early yesterday afternoon Dr. Nesbit sent to Mayor Smith for the Council a written statement covering about what he had said orally at the session of Council relative to the need of improving the market house and setting forth a number of recommendations that will doubtless receive favorable action by the body. The communication follows:

"To the Council of the City of Wilmington.

"Gentlemen:—I desire to submit the following recommendations with reference to the city market. In view of the proposed reconstruction of the city market, which is being projected for the specific purpose of improving its sanitary condition, it becomes necessary to change the manner and form of stall renting in order to further this object.

"Inasmuch as it becomes incumbent upon the tenants of these market stalls to supply furniture and fixtures for these stalls, and as the purchases of such furniture and fixtures will necessitate the expenditure of money on the part of the tenants, to a greater or less extent, thus creating a permanent investment in their business, I would respectfully recommend that as a measure for the furtherance of public health as well as for the benefit of these tenants, that they be given leasing contracts if they desire them, for periods of time up to five years. My investigation has shown that this is the only means by which a satisfactory sanitary condition of the market may be secured.

"I would respectfully recommend that no stall be rented for the purpose of selling meats, dressed poultry and game, sea foods of all kinds, or dairy products, unless such stalls shall be provided with fixtures and furniture which will enable the market men to display the above named articles of food under glass covers, in order that they may be effectively protected from dust and flying insects, and that all stalls rented for the purpose of selling this class of food shall be supplied with fixtures to furnish effective refrigeration for these articles of food at all times.

"I would respectfully recommend that the tenants of all stalls in the market devoted to the sale of fresh vegetables, fruits and melons be required to install substantial wooden racks or cases for the display of their wares which shall be raised not less than two feet from the floor of the market at all times, and that they shall at no time be permitted to store or place any part of their stock on the floor of the market anywhere in the market.

"I would further recommend that no tenants of any stall in the market be permitted to keep in or about his stall any receptacle to contain wash water or slop water unless the same shall be of porcelain lined iron construction and shall be connected with the drain of the market by proper pipes containing proper trap. This regulation should apply to all refrigerators and ice chests.

"I would further recommend that the tenant of each stall in the market shall provide for his stall a floor of wooden grating which shall be raised not less than three inches from the concrete floor of the market and shall cover the entire extent of his stall which is not covered with other furniture, such floor to be constructed in sections so that the same can be easily removed for the thorough cleaning of the floor of the market.

"I would also recommend that the surfaces of all counters upon which food is handled shall be provided with a surface of impermeable material which shall be porcelain covered iron, marble, glass or tile. The above provisions should not apply to butchers cutting blocks.

"I would also recommend that all receptacles in which meats, poultry, game, sea foods of all kinds, and dairy products are displayed or stored, shall be constructed of impermeable material the inner surface of which shall be perfectly smooth and at all times free from the effects of rust or corrosion. Such receptacles to be of porcelain or granite lined metal, glazed eathenware or glass.

"I would further recommend that the present filthy habit of dispensing oysters, clams and other sea food in rusty tin pails which do not contain standard measures, be prohibited by ordinance. This custom is not only dangerous to public health, but is carried on in direct violation of the laws governing the standards of weights and measures.

"I would further recommend that no live poultry or other live animal be permitted in or about the market at any time.

"In urging the above recommendations I desire to state that I consider each of them necessary for the preservation of the public health and absolutely essential to the sanitary handling and storing of foods as well as to the maintenance of sanitary conditions in general in and about the city market.

"Respectfully submitted,

"CHAS. T. NESBITT,
"Supt. of Health."

NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Bids for Handsome New Structure Will Be Opened Today

It is expected that today when proposals for construction are opened there will be a large number of bidders for the handsome new Y. M. C. A. building which will soon be erected on Market street. The committee will meet this morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of receiving bids and it will be decided at this meeting when the proposals will be opened. The advertisement for proposals did not state an hour for the opening of these bids, but it is understood that it will be some time during the day when it is reasonably certain all the proposals are in. Mr. W. F. Shattuck, of Chicago, one of the architects for the building, arrived yesterday morning and was in conference during the day with Chairman W. E. Springer, Secretary L. W. Moore and Mr. Huntington, of the building committee. Some of the largest contractors in the country were making inquiry yesterday as to the time of the opening of the bids and it is certain that the committee will have the advantage of lively competition in making the award, which will be one of the big contracts of the year to be given out in Wilmington.

HO! FOR THE ROCKS

Steamer Wilmington to Make Special Trip Tomorrow—Schedule

While the Fall is lingering in the lap of Summer, no more delightful outing can be imagined than a trip down the historic Cape Fear and out to sea. At no season of the year is the ocean grander or more beautiful than in early Autumn, and in order to give his friends and patrons an opportunity of taking a trip "outside," Capt. Harper announces that the steamer Wilmington will make a special and very pleasant trip Sunday to the Black Fish Rocks. The steamer will leave the city as usual at 9:30 A. M., and returning will reach the city at 6 P. M. This trip should appeal to all and no doubt a very large crowd will be on hand when the steamer casts off her lines tomorrow morning.

Woman's Branch of Odd Fellowship Founded 61 Years Ago

The 61st anniversary of the founding of the Daughters of Rebekah, the woman's branch of Odd Fellowship, will be appropriately observed tonight by Letitia Lodge in the Odd Fellows' hall, corner Third and Princess streets. An attractive programme of exercises has been arranged by the committee in charge and includes talks, instrumental and vocal selections, readings, etc. Members of the order of Odd Fellows as well as the woman's branch are looking forward with keen interest to the occasion, which is expected to be largely attended.

Opens Office In Wilmington

Cyrus D. Hogue, Esq., who has decided to practice law in this city as announced in The Star a few days ago, returned yesterday morning from Chapel Hill, where he has made his home for the past few years and has opened his office at No. 106 Princess building. Mr. Hogue formerly lived in Wilmington, being a brother of Rev. R. W. Hogue, who was for several years the beloved rector of St. James' Episcopal church, and he has many friends in this city. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and obtained his license from the Supreme Court some months ago. His many friends predict for him a bright future in his chosen career.

WOMAN'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE

Known All Over The World --Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

APPROACHING MARRIAGE OF INTEREST LOCALLY

Friends in this city have received handsomely engraved invitations bearing the following intersting announcement:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Mary
to
Mr. Henry Gilbert Bowden on Wednesday morning, the second of October, one thousand nine hundred and twelve, at half
after eleven o'clock
First Christian Church
Springfield, Illinois

Mr. Bowden is a Wilmingtonian and for several years was assistant secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., but is now field secretary of the association for the Carolinas with headquarters in Charlotte. He is one of the most consecrated and successful workers in the field and has many warm friends in Wilmington and throughout the Carolinas. The bride-elect is pleasantly remembered in Wilmington, having visited this city two or three ycars ago as a member of the party accompanying Rev. Dr. R. A. Torrey, the evangelist. Miss Anderson was the pianist and her playing was by no means the least feature of the meeting. She is a highly accomplished musician and greatly endeared herself to the many people she met while here.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Rev. J. M. Plowden will preach Sunday morning and evening at Goodman's Mill, Brunswick county.

—Mr. Tim Robinson has accepted a position with the Wilmington Trading Company, No. 501 North Fourth street, where he will be glad to greet any of his friends.

—George Washington Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., at the regular meeting last night initiated three candidates and planned for a vigorous Fall and Winter's work.

—A handsome new front is being put in the store occupied by Mr. C. H. Fore, on Market street. The improvement will add greatly to the appearance of the store.

—Rev. W. E. Cowan, of Watha, N. C., will preach at the residence of Mr. William Crownstream, 711 Taylor street, Sunday, September 22nd, at 4 P. M. All will be welcome.

—Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, presiding elder of the Wilmington district, will preach at Bladen Street Methodist church Sunday night. This will be his third quarterly round and he will doubtless be heard by a large congregation.

—Receipts of cotton at the port of Wilmington yesterday were 2,211 bales. The local market yesterday was quoted steady at 11 1-2 cents. Reports from the country are that the staple is opening rapidly and that the crop is being marketed as fast as it is ginned.

—Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: B. F. King, Jr., to C. C. Chadbourn and wife, for $10 and other considerations, lot on Tenth street, 66 feet south of Queen, 66x330 fee in size; A. A. Nathan and wife, to Roland A. Wright for $100 and other considerations, lot on Orange street, 66 feet east of Second, 66x66 feet in size.

French; Wrightsboro Union Sunday School, R. F. Coleman and A. Cowan; fire station, J. T. Sholar and P. Heinsberger; Wrightsville Sound, Louis Williams; county jail, H. E. O'Keef.

The sins of our youth certainly follow us. Now it is charged that Woodrow Wilson wore side whiskers when he sang tenor in the glee club.—Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

..Theatrical..

Local theatre-goers will receive with pleasurable anticipation the announcement that Latimore & Leigh will offer at the Academy next Wednesday, matinee and night, their lavishly appointed production of George M. Cohan's popular and unique mixture of melody and comedy "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway."

The play is not unlike any of the former efforts of the successful actor-author, but is different in theme and treatment from any attractions within the memory of the present generation and play lovers, and by many it is claimed to be the highest mark of quality that Mr. Cohan has yet attained. While there are a number of typical Cohan song hits introduced during the three acts and made more effective by a well balanced chorus, a well thought out story, replete with several surprises and some very strong dramatic situations is closely adhered to throughout. The new departure in this direction was responsible in a large measure for the tremendous vogue the play enjoyed in New York and Chicago, where it ran contiiuously for over a year with practically the same cast that will be seen here. Miss Hazele Burgess will be seen in the role of "Mary" a servant in New Rochelle, a town exactly three-quarters of an hour distant by train from New York's main thoroughfare, and in which the story of the play is laid. Bert Leigh will be seen as "Kid Burns" the ex-prize fighter.

The matinee will be of the popular price type, reserved seats being 50 and 75 cents. Seats will go on sale for both performances Tuesday at Plummer's.

Week-End at the Grand.

This will be the first day of the big week-end offerings at the Grand Theatre since the big Fall opening last Monday and as usual the management has endeavored to provide something extra good for its patrons on this occasion. Mr. Chick will sing "On a Good Old Time Straw Ride," which should appeal especially popular with the young people just at this time when this sport is a favorite with so many of them. This is a comic hit and should prove one of the best song hits of the season.

The pictures for the afternoon and evening will be three in number, with two topliners "Saved at the Altar", and "A Trustee of the Law". Both are strong in dramatic action and afford many strong climaxes that will readily appeal to patrons of the moveys. The beautiful daughter of Col. Wesley is the heroine in one and Bob McNeal a personally popular young man who is elected sheriff is the hero in the other. Then in addition to these there will be a third, all of which will be very pleasing.

At the Bijou.

It is a great, a really wonderful bill the popular Bijou has selected to bring a big and glorious week to a fitting climax, and this superb offering is going to be headed by a film in which no less a distinguished moving picture actor than Maurice Costello will be the star. It is called "The Loyalty of Sylvia," and it unfolds a beautiful story of a doctor and his ward. With brighter coloring it is a story on the order of Nat Godwin's noted drama, "When We Were

MORRIS COSTELLO.

Twenty-One." Mr. Costello plays the role of the physician and the part gives him fine chance to show his splendid ability, that has endeared him to devotees of the "Movies."

Another big star photoplay is also on today's bill in "The Trade Gun Bullet." While a Western tale, yet it possesses much of the mystery of the detective story and is a heart gripper from start to finish.

The other films on today's menu are of excellent type and will help to make the week-end at the Bijou a truly great one. Of course, the Bijou will be delightfully comfortable, no matter the jam or the weather, and the tiny price of admission—5 cents—will hold forth.

"The Traveling Salesman."

At the Academy Friday night of next week, "The Traveling Salesman" a comedy by James Forbes, author of "The Chorus Lady," and "The Commuters," will be the attraction. "The Traveling Salesman", while primarily a comedy of the broadest kind, has also interwoven in the plot a story of much dramatic interest. Beth Elliott, the station agent at Grand Crossing, is the owner of a piece of land of doubtful value, that is known locally as Elliott's stone pile. The taxes are overdue and Beth does not think it worth while to protect her interests at the delinquent tax sale. Martin Drury, a capitalist, is in possession of information that the railroad company needs Beth's land for some contemplated improvement and he arranges with Frank Royce, an admirer of Beth's to buy in the property and divide the profits. In the mentime Bob Blake, the traveling salesman, arrives at Grand Crossing and falls under the spell of Beth's charm at first sight. He remains in the village over night and with Royce and some traveling men a poker game is started. During the progress of the game Royce becomes intoxicated and boasts of the fortune that he and Drury expect to realize out of the sale of Beth's property. Blake plans to frustrate their scheme and with the assistance of a friend Bob locks Royce up so that he will be unable to attend the sale. He buys in the property as Beth's representative and turns it over to her, As a fitting reward Beth promises to become Mrs. Blake and the play has the proverbially happy ending. The management of the company promises an exceptionally good production and cast for this engagement. The part of Bob Blake will be played by Robert Lee Allen.

Here's a rich one. Col. Roosevelt declares that Woodrow Wilcon's nomination was brought about by "bosses" in the Democratic party, Tom Taggart, Roger Sullivan and Charlie Murphy. If you hear some unusual explosions coming from the direction of Nebraska, it is Mr. Bryan laughing. And he's entitled to hearty one.—Topeka Journal.

Of course, Geo. W. Perkins was on the best of terms with ex-Secretary Ballinger in 1909, but Ballinger was then in office and Perkins was interested in Alaska. Perkins has always ben working for progress.—New York World.

The struggle between Col. Roosevelt and President Taft is certainly inspiring—to the Democrats.—Dayton News.

Deep down in the heart of every normal man and woman is the ambition to some day own a home.

This may be half-formed—a vague discontent and unrest concerning conditions which every renter so well knows—or, it may have reached the state of active DETERMINATION AND RESOLVE to make any and all sacrifices necessary to escape the renter's life and to LIVE IN AND

Own a Real Home of Your Own

The desire and the ambition ARE THERE, more or less definitely formed in the heart of every man and woman, waiting only for the needed stimulus to DEVELOP TO THE POINT OF ACTION.

It is natural to live in one's own home.

It is unnatural to live in a rented house or apartment.

The family that lives in its own house, no matter how humble it may be, feels the sense of independence that does not come to the family in a rented house.

Every renter feels, even if he does not say it, that every month's rent that he turns over to his landlord is money practically thrown away. That is, he knows that it is too much to pay for the merely temporary comforts it brings—and they're often pretty doubtful comforts, too.

When one stops to think of the amount of money that is paid out in rents during twenty or twenty-five years, one is amazed and dumbfounded.

IT IS ENOUGH TO BUY A FINE HOME, FREE FROM ALL INCUMBRANCES.

Yet what has the renter to show for his money expended, except a bundle of rent receipts?

The same money spent a little more judiciously, in payments for a lot and then a house, would go to secure a desirable home and make a splendid investment and saving.

There are various ways for the renter to go about it to acquire a home.

He may undertake to purchase a house that has already been lived in, an old house, perhaps; at any rate a second-hand house; or he may go out to the suburbs, where real estate owners and contractors often put up houses on pure speculation.

Both of these methods are at fault to the extent that such a house has not been made to meet the special requirements of those who are to live in it.

The requirements of no two families are exactly alike, and when a matter so vitally important as the acquiring of a home is at stake, a dwelling that has to be occupied throughout life, it seems that the house OUGHT to be built ESPECIALLY TO MEET THE NEEDS OF THE OWNER.

So there is the third way of acquiring a home, and it is undoubtedly THE BEST WAY.

It is NOT to buy a ready-made house, either new or second-hand, but to HAVE A HOUSE BUILT IN JUST THE RIGHT LOCATION AND OF JUST THE RIGHT SIZE AND CHARACTER AS YOU YOURSELF DESIRE.

This is an easy thing for even a man of average means or modest income to do.

The first consideration is naturally the location of the lot itself.

Your start towards a home will have been judiciously begun when you DECIDE TO PURCHASE A LOT.

COTTON MOVED UP 10 POINTS

The Market Showed An Upward Tendency, Owing to Unfavorable Weather News—Sharp Rally On General Demand

New York, Sept. 20.—While more or less unsettled and irregular, the cotton market showed an upward tendency today, owing to unfavorable weather news and the close was steady at a net advance of from 4 to 10 points. The market opened steady at an advance of 5 points and during the first few minutes sold 7 to 10 points net higher on covering and local buying inspired by relatively firm cables and reports of a damaging storm in Texas. Private advices from the Southwest, however, indicated that this storm had been confined to a comparatively limited area and on this view of the situation the market turned easier shortly after the call. Heavy selling by spot houses contributed to much of the weakness and the market soon sold off to a net loss of from 5 to 6 points.

Around 11.50 for January a considerable demand developed and following the publication of the Western belt forecast for unsettled conditions, with colder weather in Arkansas and Oklahoma, the market again turned firmer. Later unfavorable weather reports from the Western belt and fears of cold rains of unseasonably low temperatures inspired rather a more general demand, and the market rallied sharply. The close was within 3 or 4 points of the best.

What We Never Forget

according to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, sores, skin eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Unrivaled for piles, corns or coldsores. Only 25 cents at R. R. Bellamy's.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Speculation Has Died Down and the Spot Situation Has Improved—Spot Interests Hold Aloof Awaiting Light

New York, Sept. 20.—Cotton has latterly rebelled against the tactics attributed to spot interests and others by which at one time it was forced downward, assisted by the big movement of the crop in Texas. It is true that many of the crop reports have been favorable and that there is a growing impression among many that Texas will raise a much larger crop than that of last year.

Moreover, speculation has died down. Many have become disgusted with the sudden changes in prices due, as they think, purely to the manipulation. But it is clear that the spot situation has improved. The spot sales in Liverpool have notably increased. The demand for the actual cotton at the South is larger. Cotton is offered less freely in Liverpool. American and foreign spinners have not been buying at all freely for some little time past, but as their trade has within the last two months considerably increased, it is argued that it is about time for them to begin buying on a larger scale. And apparently they have been buying more freely during the past week, more particularly for the past few days. Some think that the government report will put the condition at about 65 per cent. Some damage is reported from boll weevils and army worms. Some alarm at one time over the low temperatures in the Southwest had a tendency to strengthen the market. The other day a New Orleans weather expert predicted frost in Oklahoma.

Some crop estimates have recently been heard approximating 14,150,000 bales, but most of the estimates do not go over 14,000,000 bales and bulls insist that it may easily turn out to be not more than 13,000,000 to 13,500,000 bales.

Of late, large spot interests which have at one time sold freely, have bought both here and in Liverpool. At the moment the market is considered a mere trading affair. Many are holding aloof awaiting more light on the general situation.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW

Week's Developments Confirm the Improvement in Business Activity

New York, Sept. 20.—R. G. Dun & Company's review of trade tomorrow will say:

All the developments of the week confirm and strengthen the improvement in business activity. Each week brings a higher price level in iron and steel and the resumption of several merchant furnaces that have been idle for two years is expected. Firmness prevails in pig iron at all leading centers, with substantial advances noted in some districts. Premiums paid for prompt shipments indicate that consumers are in urgent need of material and new business is pretty evenly distributed, with especial activity in steel bars, plates and shapes.

Dry goods houses report a steady volume of duplicate business, buyers displaying confidence, but confining their operations to frequent purchases of small parcels. Fall distribution of cotton goods is much better than last year and indications are that current values will be maintained for a considerable period. Wide print cloths are firmer and narrow cloths steady, while a better demand is noted for fine and fancy cottons. Drills, sheetings and ducks are very strong, and some export orders are said to be pending in the latter. Conditions in the woolen and worsted markets and at the mills are exceptionally satisfactory, and demand for men's wear woolens and worsted and dress goods being such that difficulty in meeting it is frequently found. Trade in silks is steadily improving. The yarn markets are strong and reflect a steadily broadening trade in miscellaneous goods.

Trading in footwear shows further improvement. While little buying has yet been done for Spring, many supplementary orders for Fall and Winter goods have been received.

GREAT ACTIVITY IN STOCKS

Yesterday's Session in the Stock Exchange Was the Busiest in Several Months—Prices Were Highest of the Year.

New York, Sept. 20.—Greater activity, breadth and strength attended today's operations on the stock exchange than any session in several months. The business of the first two hours was on a scale of the old time "million share" days, but the movement lost some of its force in the afternoon on heavy profit-taking and extensive short covering.

Taking the day's best prices as a basis, the average level was almost the highest of the year. In fact, two speculative favorites—United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper—recorded their best quotations since 1911. Steel resumed its former leadership in point of activity, being heavily bought in round lots of 2,000, 3,000 and 4,000 shares. The demand came from some of the better known commission houses.

Reading rivalled steel with a rise of three points. Amalgamated was the next most active issue, so-called Standard Oil brokers being the principal purchasers.

Aside from Reading and Lehigh Valley, the railroad group did not participate to any marked degree in the day's movement, although Harriman and Hill stocks were up 1 to 1 1-2 points with lesser gains in Rock Island and St. Paul. Central Pacific was firm, but the market less broad than in stocks. Total sales par value were $2,245,000.

United States government bonds unchanged on call. Total sales 699,400 shares, including Amalgamated Copper 36,800; A. C. L. 400; C. & O., 5,200; L. & N. 1,100; N. & W. 600; Reading 122,200; S. A. The Men Who Succeed as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half-alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at R. R. THE COTTON MOVEMENT

Hester's Statement Shows Decrease In Movement Into Sight

New Orleans, Sept. 20.—Secretary Hester's weekly New Orleans cotton exchange statement issued today shows a decrease in round figures in the movement into sight of 64,000 under the seven days ending September 20th last year, and an increase over the same time year before last of 70,000.

The amount brought into sight during the week ending this afternoon is stated at 342,694, against 407,053 for the seven days ending this date last year. This brings the total crop moved into sight for the twenty days of the new season to 768,881, against 856,333 last year.

The movement since September 1st shows receipts at all United States ports 569,345, against 636,776 last year and across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to Northern mills and Canada 4,477, against 8,073 last year. Interior stocks in excess of September 1st 80,059, against 107,914 last year. Southern mill takings 115,000, against 103,570 last year.

Foreign exports of American cotton since Sept. 1st have been 172,577, against 166,201 last year. The total takins of American mills, North and South 174,030 this year, against 172,821. Since the close of the commercial year stocks at American ports and the 29 leading Southern interior centers have increased 282,927, against an increase for the same period of last year 271,599.

Including stocks left over at ports and the interior towns from the last crop and the number of bales brought into sight thus far for the new crop, the supply to date is 1,133,594, against 1,143,307 for the same period last year.

"CLEANS UP" $20,000,000

Wall Street Hears Daring Speculator Has Made Another Coup

(Special to Baltimore Sun).

New York, Sept. 18.—Following the recent active market, it was reported in Wall Street today that Bernard M. Baruch, a daring speculator, had "cleaned up" $20,000,000.

Word was passed around at the opening of the market Tuesday that the long-delayed activity had come at last, and stocks began to climb at once. Such favorites as Steel, Union Pacific, Amalgamated, Reading and other issues went soaring upward, and the trend of the whole list was toward better prices.

The rise had hardly started before brokers began to believe that Baruch was busy again. Every rise was watched as a barometer of what might be expected, and the floor of the Stock Exchange was again the scene of intense activity, after months of comparative quiet.

The Stock Exchange today contains no more spectacular character than Bernard M. Baruch. He has two brothers on the Exchange, Hartwig N., of Baruch Bros., and S. W. Baruch, of A. A. Housman & Co. He was at one time connected with the firm of Baruch Bros., but for some years past has been doing business by himself and in a little private office in a building overlooking Trinity churchyard he sits and does things when the time is ripe.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 19.—Dr. L. A. Griffith, a prominent physician of this city, who has been on trial since yesterday in the county court on a charge of criminally assaulting a patient at his operating room was acquitted by the jury this morning after three minutes deliberation.

It is one of the perversities of nature that the red-haired man seldom gets bald.

YOUNG men who go away to college or the university, or who are fortunate enough to live where the college or university is, are just the sort of men that we're ready for with our new models in

Hart Schaffner & Marx Varsity Line

You have no idea—can't have unless you see them—how far in advance of all other "young men's styles" these are. The fashions are lively, snappy, stunning; the fabrics are chosen for young tastes in color and pattern; but one important point is—the cloths are all-wool; and the tailoring is such that the clothes keep-shape. NO TAILOR CAN TOUCH THEM AT DOUBLE THE PRICE.

sided. Outside there was an overflow meeting, where the Governor made another speech. Senators Pomerene, of Ohio, and Gore, of Oklahoma, Representative Cox and the State leaders alternated between the two meetings.

"High Prices and Their Cause."

Governor Wilson's speech in greater part, was devoted to high prices and their cause. He said the leaders of the Republican and Progressive parties were abandoning this issue which is the central one of the campaign. An analysis of "big business", as assisted by the protective tariff was made by the speaker, who said in part:

"The leaders of the Republican party and the leaders of the third party have astonished the whole country by practically abandoning any serious attempt to meet the main issues of the campaign. The leaders of the third party, in particular, interest us anew every day by seeking new issues and shifting the ground of debate. At the outset they declared that the real issue of the present contest was the high cost of living, but they have laid less and less emphasis upon that because they have seen that they cannot seriously attack that question without attacking the question of the tariff and of the trusts in a very different way from that in which they are actually approaching them.

"Both the Republican party and the third party subscribe explicitly and ardently to the principle of protection. They admit that there are defects in practice, that some duties are too high, that same extortions have resulted from some schedules of the tariff, but while they are ready to tinker, they are not ready to alter in any essential particular the system by which special advantages and privileges in industry have been built up in this country. They stand for the system, and in their embarrassment declare that the tariff is not the cause of high prices, at any rate, not the chief cause.

"They are very vague about what the chief cause is, because as a matter of fact the chief cause is the manipulation of prices by the trusts. And they are tender also towards the trusts. They know that the trusts practice monopoly, that monopoly was the object of the trusts; but they throw up their hands in despair when it is suggested that monopoly may be destroyed, and reply, 'No, it is very unfortunate, but it has come to stay. Business nowadays must be big. It can't be big in any one industry without controlling and control must mean mastery of the markets. This is the only way of efficiency, and we will not stand in the way of efficiency in modern business.'

"The railroads, we all admit, are in their very nature monopolistic. We ...ed that fact when we began to regulate them. Every economist knows the familiar proof that competition is not often feasible and is sometimes financially wasteful in the field af transportation, when railways have been developed along the shortest and most serviceable lines; but they also know that this class of natural monopolies is comparatively small, and that there is no analogy between the regulation of railways and the regulation of artificial monopoly created by deliberate combination and agreement, based not upon efficiency, but upon control of a particular product and particular markets.

"Prices have risen all over the world, but much faster and very much higher in high tariff countries, where monopoly was protected, than in low tariff countries, where competition excluded monopoly. And the chief cause of high prices in America is that the markets are controlled. They can be controlled because the tariff screens them from the economic forces which establish prices in the markets of the world at large.

"No wonder, therefore, that the leaders of the Republican and Progressive parties are saying less about high prices. They dare not, or will not, go straight at the cause of high prices in this country in the remedies which they propose. Government regulation will shield monopoly as well as guide it, and regulation is not freedom.

"The net result is that both these parties have to all intents and purposes abandoned the central issues of the campaign. The Democrats alone are bold enough and far-sighted enough to see that they must tackle frankly and directly this question. Upon what principle shall tariff duties be laid, and by what means shall monopoly be prevented?

"They understand the interests of the country quite as well as the gentlemen who have played providence to those interests for their own benefit understand them, but they see them from another point of view, and they suspect this human providence and distrust it.

"They see as clearly as anyone else sees that business must in our day be done upon a great scale, but they know that there is a size which is natural and a size which is unnatural in business. The size which is unnatural is built up upon certain kinds of agreements, certain kinds of practices, certain understandings with regard to control which are seldom economical and whose object is not efficiency. The right and wholesome kind of size comes from natural growth, from the development of a business managed with brains, with the closest study of efficiency and economy, with a sort of statesmanlike knowledge of the markets of the world, and that kind of size no wise or well-informed man fears or is jealous of.

"Monopoly is always in the long run weak and inefficient, and the leaders of the Democratic party know perfectly well that they are serving the business interests of the country much better, much more intelligently, than the leaders of either of the other parties, because they mean so to regulate competition and free the conditions of business in this country as to substitute the efficient for the merely powerful. It is futile to stand for the causes of our present wrongs and weakly propose to control and moderate the results, and yet that is all that our opponents suggest.

"They even propose to remedy the results by the very means by which they were produced, namely, the partnership of the government in the management of big business. I, for my part, can never bring myself to accept the proposal that the government by regulation shall act through the trusts for the people. The contact between the government and the people in such a case is too remote and indirect. This is no way in which to restore the confidence of the people. It is only a way in which to provide the people with new guardians, guardians interested above all things in making a profit out of their guardianship, a political profit, be it observed, as well as an economic profit. I wonder what the regulation is to accomplish for the working men through the instrumentality of those who have been their most successful opponents.

"For, after all, the attitude of government towards labor lies at the heart of almost everything that concerns us as a nation. A nation may be said to consist of those who do its daily labor, and America has always boasted that she was the home of free labor, that all were welcome to come to her shores and partake of her unbounded opportunities. Shall we substitute for this dream and ambition of ours a regime under which great 'regulated' monopolies shall be forever the chief patrons of labor? Shall we not, on the contrary, assist to set our laboring men free by placing them in a field of varied enterprise, controlled by no man, by no set of men, by no government, where they can look about for opportunity and find it, where they can act as they please, within the limits of right and justice, in their own interest, where an economic democracy will make them feel that they have a vital part in everything that affects the enterprise and the hope of the success of the nation?

"I, for one, shall not abandon this hope. I, for one, am confident that prosperity does not depend upon monopoly. I, for one, believe that with just a little intelligence, just a little courage, just enough indifference to special interests, just a little inspiration of hope, we can restore American life to the conditions of which we were once so proud, and obtain for ourselves again a government which can serve us all without fear or favor, and make itself an instrument by which our life as a nation may be eased and ennobled."

THE JEFFERSON STANDARD

Largest Insurance Company of Entire South—Greensboro Merger

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 20.—Directors of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company at a well attended meeting here yesterday perfected and ratified all details leading to the amalgamation of the Security Life, the Greensboro Life and the Jefferson Standard, selected temporary home offices in the Fisher building at Greensboro, elected officers and an executive committee and in general discussed plans looking to the further advancement of what is now generally recognized as the strongest and largest life insurance company of the South. There were 22 of the 27 directors in attendance at the meeting.

George A. Grimsley, who prior to the merger was secretary of the Security Life and Annuity Company and who a few weeks ago was elected president of the Jefferson Standard, was yesterday re-elected president of the combined companies. The official staff which will serve with Mr. Grimsley is as follows:

Vice presidents, Joseph G. Brown, of Raleigh; P. H. Hanes, Winston; J. Van Lindley, Greensboro; secretary, C. C. Taylor;; treasurer and manager of renewals and inspection, Charles W. Gold; assistant treasurer, L. M. Johnson; manager of agents, Julin Price; medical examiner, Dr. J. P. Turner.

The executive committee consists of Joseph G. Brown and Charles E. Johnson, of Raleigh; George A. Holderness, Tarboro; H. C. McQueen, Wilmington; W. A. Blair, Winston.

No announcements were made with reference to actuaries, assistant secretary of the personnel of the clerical force, it being stated that these matters had not been determined.

The consolidation of the three companies becomes effective today and as soon as possible the offices will be located in the Fisher building, where they will be maintained pending the erection of the new 10-story home on the site where the old Security company proposed to erect its home offices.

The Jefferson Standard of Greensboro, today is known as the largest insurance company of the entire South, having a total of $39,000,000 of insurance in force; $3,500,000 of assets; $1,750,000 annual permium income and $750,000 surplus to policy holders.

DECLINES INVITATION.

Taft Refuses to Meet Eugene Debbs in Joint Debate.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 20.—An invitation to President Taft to enter in joint debate with Eugene V. Debbs, the nominee of the Socialist party for President, was declined today by White House officials. The invitation suggested that the oratorcal encounter take place in Philadelphia on the night of September 28th and assurances were given that 20,000 persons would come to hear it. The President's declination was based upon the fact that he has announced his intention of taking no speaking part in the campaign.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 20.—When the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, of Richmond, Va., who are in the city as guests of the Second Company, Governor's foot guard, leave for their homes tomorrow they will carry back with them a guidon of a Virginia command captured by a New Haven soldier in the Civil War when the Federal troops entered the city of Richmond. The guidon carries the seal of Virginia and was presented to the Blues by Governor Baldwin.

It takes a mighty little shove to send some men down hill.

TWO NEW RECORDS

Made by Junior Athletes In A. A. U. Meet

Pittsburg, Pa., Forbes Field, Sept. 20.—Two new records were established, two equalled and exceptional good marks were hung up in a majority of the events participated in today by junior athletes from all parts of the United States under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union. Although the number of spectators did not come up to expectations, enthusiasm was not lacking, nor was there anything to be desired in the character of sport offered.

The senior games will be held tomorrow.

E. McCarthy, of the Irish-American A. C., New York, made a new junior record in the hop-step-and-jump, with a mark of 45 feet 9 inches, while E. Muller, of the same organization, threw the discus 126.95 feet, establishing another new junior record. In the matter of points the N. Y. A. C. carried off first honors with a total of 31 for the day.

The Irish-American was second with 30 points. The difference of one point between the rival organizations from New York caused a heated dispute during the javelin throw. The trouble was settled, however.

E. Lund, Irish-American A. C., on his fourth throw with the javelin had made 157.66 feet. H. Lott, Mohawk A. C., New York, followed with a throw of 169.72 feet. Lund protested the throw, stating that when he had made his throw the cord binding the javelin handle had become unfastened. He claimed it had become tied, causing a small knot which materially aided Lott in making the winning throw.

After much wrangling the matter was referred to James E. Sullivan, secretary and treasurer of the A. A. U., referee of the games, who disallowed Land's claim. The question was vital to the Irish-American A. C. Had Lott's throw been disqualified, Lund would have received five points for a first instead of three for a second, making the total points of the Irish-American A. C., 32 in place of 30 or one more than scored by the New York A C.

Only two athletes who competed in the recent Olympic games at Stockholm, Sweden, participated in the events here today. E. Muller, Irish-American A. C., who today broke the junior record in the discus throw, finished fourth in that event across the sea. The second was J. Gallagher, Shannahan A. C., of Philadelphia, who today won the five-mile race and came in seventh in the Olympic marathon.

THE HOOKWORM FIGHT.

Dr. Stiles Says Question Has Become a Sociological One.

Washington, Sept. 20.—A living comparison of the efficiency of the fight being waged in the South against the hookworm disease was presented to the American Public Health Association today by Dr. Chas. W. Stiles, in charge of the work being done by the Rockefeller Sanitary Commission. Luther McPherson, frail, thin and waxen of hue, suffering from a severe case of hookworm, was placed on the platform by the side of Selma Ellis, strong and hearty looking, but who "looked like post-mortem material, of which I was badly in need when we discovered him," said Dr. Stiles. The question of ridding the South of the hookworm, he declared, has passed the medical stage and has become a sociological problem.

As an example of co-operation between State and local health authorities and social workers, highest praise was given to the battle against the hookworm by John M. Glenn, general director of the Russell Sage Foundation, and by Dr. W. F. Snow, secretary of the California Board of Health. The latter paid high tribute to the efficiency as a health administrator of Dr. Rupert Blue, of the Public Health Service.

"Good health administration is worth more to a city than a low tax rate," declared Mr. Glenn. "One hundred dollars spent in health administration is easily of $100,000 value in practical benefit to the community. The country should be taught to know that the health department is as important to the welfare and progress of peoples as any other branch of government. The health officer should be well paid and free from political influences and change."

THE VANN TRIAL.

Clothing From Dead Body in Court at Elizabeth City.

Elizabeth City, N. C. Sept. 20.—The murder stained and rotted clothing found near the decayed body of Oliver Layden, whom the State is trying to show was murdered by B. F. Vann, were exhibited in court this morning and positively identified by the dead boy's mother. A lock of hair caught by one of the buttons was likewise identified by Mrs. Layden as that of her boy.

The sight of the clothing affected Mrs. Layden to such an extent that she had difficulty in testifying. Layden's sisters also sobbed audibly.

The two bicycles and a grass sack filled with shreds of clothing and bones were brought into the court room and placed on exhibition. A pistol borrowed by Vann on the morning of the boy's disappearance and found near the dead body was identified and placed in evidence. The defense has not showed its hand, but it seems that it will rely on the acknowledged friendship of Vann and Layden and will seek to show discrepancies in time and location.

There is a splendid chance that Woodrow Wilson will get the electoral votes of Vermont. Is there any other State except California in which his chances are not equally good or better?—Hartford Times.

TWO FATALLY INJURED.

And Several Less Seriously Hurt in L. & N. Wreck.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 20.—Two persons were probably fatally injured and 18 others were more or less seriously injured today when Louisville & Nashville passenger train No. 37, bound from Cincinnati to the South, plunged through an open switch a quarter of a mile north of Kisserton, Ky., throwing the engine from the track to another and wrecking eight freight cars on a siding. The probably fatally injured are:

Fireman Jos. Faulkoner, of Covington, Ky., and Engineer Rusk, of Paris, Ky. All of the injured were taken to Paris on a special relief train.

The train was running at a good rate of speed when it struck the section where double tracking is in progress. The switch was left open by some one whose identity is not yet fixed and the train ran full tilt into the freight cars which were left standing on the siding by work crews. The baggage car was hurled from the track and the engine almost completely wrecked. The passengers in the coaches behind suffered their injuries by being shaken up by the terrific impact.
